

TWO OF ESCAPED CONVICT TRIO, CAPTURED IN GEORGIA MOUNTAINS, RETURNED TO JAIL

One Slain and Two Wounded in Clash at Royston

TRAGEDY FOLLOWS ALLEGED ATTACK BY BAND IN ROBES

Walton Adams, Well Known Royston Farmer, Dead; H. L. Bigby and Ben Harrison Wounded.

COUNTY OFFICIALS MAKE NO ARRESTS

White Robes Found at Scene of Fight. Bigby Is Said To Have Received Note of Warning.

Athens, Ga., March 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—In a free for all pistol battle staged at Royston last night between Herman Bigby, formerly of Honea Path, S. C., and in charge of a logging crew, and a band of robbers, Walton Adams, 45, Franklin county farmer, said to be one of the members of the mob, was almost instantly killed and Bigby and R. A. Harrison, Lavonia druggist, are in a critical condition.

Reports here were to the effect that the band of men went to the home of Bigby Tuesday night, where he lived alone, to see him about his attentions to a woman in Royston. Bigby is married, his wife residing at Honea Path, S. C.

Band of Robbed Men.
The band of robbers men are said to have surrounded the Bigby house, and then summoned Bigby to the door. Realizing that the house was surrounded, Bigby is said to have opened fire on the band of men, and he was answered with a volley of shots from both the front and rear of the house and a side window.

After a large number of shots had been fired by the band, they dispersed, many of them, it was said, disrobing themselves, to enable them to make a quicker get-away. Several of the white robes were found about the scene of the battle.

After the smoke of battle had cleared, and the band had departed, the body of Adams was found lying in a ditch in front of Bigby's home, his death coming instantly. Harrison, said to have been a member of the robbers band, was shot in one arm and through the lungs, and was said to be in a critical condition at a Lavonia hospital, to which place he went after the disturbance.

Bigby was shot in the head and is not expected to recover. He underwent an operation in an Anderson (S. C.) hospital today, it was said. He was found in the house by county officers, who carried him to Anderson.

Views of Highway Officials Differ On Bond Problem

HOUSE AND SENATE STIRRED BY FIGHT OVER PROHIBITION

Sensational Interchanges Between Glass and Bruce Feature Debate on Subject in Upper House.

By JAMES O'DONNELL BENNETT (By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)—Washington, March 10.—Prohibition—the congressional banquet—rose again in both senate and house this afternoon. This time the ghost that will not down frightened some senators and evened the language of others. Senator Carter Glass, democrat, of Virginia, President Wilson's secretary of the treasury, and one of the mighty men on the minority side of the chamber, charged Senator Bruce, democrat, of Maryland, with leading the Congressional Record with misinformation in order to advance his campaign for a return to local option and government manufacture and sale of intoxicants.

Senator Bruce retorted that Senator Glass had drunk too much wine and beer in his lifetime not to have much more specific information about both than he confessed to, whereupon Senator Glass furiously replied that he had never touched a drop of either in his life.

Accuses Senator Bruce.
Senator Ashurst, democrat, of Arizona, shouting at the top of his lungs and commanding the applause of the galleries, accused Senator Bruce in round terms, saying:

"The senator from Maryland is employing his perspicacity and his great ability to foist upon the people—and to rehabilitate—the worst of the white robes."

Prompt and keen interest was shown by Atlantans Wednesday in the poll now being conducted by The Constitution in association with 20 other leading newspapers of the country to ascertain public sentiment over the question of modifying the Volstead law to permit sale of light wines and beer under strict government license and regulation, approximately 350 ballots being cast locally in a few hours after the poll began, first votes showing a marked preponderance in favor of modification. The total showed 315 for modification and 33 against modification.

Following are totals reported in the balloting Wednesday: Atlanta, for modification, 282; against modification, 32. Washington, D. C., poll of Washington Post, for 2,820; against, 351.

Phillips Tells Committee He Favors Small Bond Issue Only If Anticipated Funds Fail.

BENNETT OPPOSED TO BOND PROJECT

Holder Repeats Opposition to Plan; All Members, However, See Need For More Money.

Predicting their plans for future road building in Georgia on an increase of 1 cent per gallon in the present gasoline taxes and withdrawal of the 4-cent inspection fee surplus which now goes to the general treasury, the three members of the state highway board expressed divergent views in regard to the proposal to issue state bonds for hard-surfacing the state road system when they appeared before the constitutional amendments committee of the house Wednesday afternoon.

Chairman John N. Holder declared unequivocally that he was opposed to an issue of state bonds under any conceivable circumstances. He said he would only pave roads of the state as fast as "current income allowed. Counting on the increase of 1 cent per gallon in gasoline tax, which he recommends to the legislature; on approximately $2,000,000 in federal aid annually, and on $2,000,000 to be raised by county bond issues, Chairman Holder expects a total of about $12,000,000 income to the highway department by 1927.

John R. Phillips, of Louisville, agreed with the chairman's views except as to the bond issue. Mr. Phillips admitted that he would favor a small bond issue to be used in event the highway paving income failed to come up to expectations and the board found that it was not receiving the amount of income it could economically.

PEACH BLOSSOM FETE OPENS TODAY AT FORT VALLEY

Thousands Expected in Peach Center to Witness Annual Festival Depicting History of Fruit.

FLOATS ENTERED FROM MANY CITIES

Parade at 11 O'Clock Opens Event, Which Will Be Followed by Colorful Pageant.

MOTOR ROUTE.
Motorists from Atlanta and north Georgia should follow the Dixie highway, route 3, out of Atlanta, through Hapeville, Jonesboro and to Griffin. At Griffin follow route 7 to Barnesville and here either continue on route 7 through Culloden, Roberts, to Fort Valley or if you desire to go by Macon, take up route 19 at Barnesville, follow that into Macon then on to route 49, which leads into Fort Valley. The distance, via route 7, is about 101 miles.

Fort Valley, Ga., March 10.—(AP)—Rain which had been falling hard all evening, slackened at midnight and preparations for holding the festival went steadily forward. Fort Valley people believe that the weather will clear off by morning.

Fort Valley, Ga., March 10.—(Special.)—With the final rehearsal held today for the colorful pageant, "The Prodigal Peach," and with the miles of baroque pits filled with savory meats, all is in readiness for the opening here Thursday morning of the fifth annual Peach Blossom festival.

POLICE WILL USE PADLOCK TO CURB VICE CONDITIONS

Federal, County and City Authorities Will Take Concerted Action Against Lawlessness.

HAGER AND BOYKIN PROMISE TO HELP

Hotels, Apartments and Rooming Houses To Be First Object in "Clean-up" Drive.

General padlocking, revocation and voiding of licenses were decided upon by the police committee of council Wednesday night as a new and drastic step to stamp out vice, enforce the prohibition laws and to suppress lawlessness in Atlanta.

Cooperation of city, state and federal authorities in the drive to "clean up" the city already has been obtained, it was announced at the meeting. District Attorney Clint W. Hager and Solicitor General John A. Boykin, of Fulton county, pledged their support in the campaign to free Atlanta from undesirable and to wipe out crime of all forms.

Federal statutes will be brought into play to padlock places where liquor may be bought, and under the law will be closed for a period of one year, while state laws will be invoked against operators of dives and immoral houses, according to unanimous decision of the committee.

Drastic Action Promised.
Action will be directed against owners of rooming houses, hotels, stores, apartments and other places which might offer a rendezvous for the criminal element of the city.

Action of the committee was taken following submission of blank reports to the committee which will be mailed to landlords. These forms will call attention to reports of violation of laws by tenants and property owners will be told to clear premises of "undesirables."

Brazil and Spain To Quit if Denied Seats in Council

Brazilian Delegate Says He Has Been Instructed To Withdraw If Nation Is Refused Place.

SIMILAR PLEA MADE BY SPANISH ENVOY

Announcements Made at Meeting of Committee Named To Consider Enlargement of Council.

Geneva, March 10.—(AP)—Brazil and Spain have combined to threaten a blow which would strike at the most vital functions of the League of Nations.

The reported threat of both countries to withdraw from the league unless they were admitted to permanent council seats along with Germany was made Wednesday when the Brazilian delegate, Mello-Franco, announced that his government had instructed him to withdraw from the league unless Brazil was given a permanent seat.

This announcement was made to a secret council named by the league to solve the council enlargement issue. Shortly before this, Quinones de Leon, Spanish delegate, had intimated that he was acting under orders which were of similarly menacing nature.

Mello-Franco's threat to the council precipitated the storm scene in the history of the league of nations. Pounding the table, the Swedish delegate declared that Sweden, irrevocably, as a matter of principle, was determined to veto any increase unless that increase be Germany.

Brazil, Mello-Franco explained, was willing merely to occupy the place in the league council already held for the United States and to withdraw when the United States entered the league of nations.

SHORT LIFE SEEN FOR NEW CABINET FORMED BY BRIAND

One Attack Will Center On Louis Malvy, Who Was Convicted of Defeatism During War.

Paris, March 10.—(AP)—With Aristide Briand's ninth cabinet only a few hours old and the formal ministerial declaration still a week away, maneuvers had been started tonight to make its life short. One attack centers on Louis Malvy, who holds the portfolio of minister of the interior.

Deputy Ybarnegaray served notice on M. Briand that he would interpellate the premier "upon the presence of M. Malvy in the cabinet." It likely will be a hard task for the premier to attain a stable working majority since the nucleus of the left center deputies forming the backbone of his supporters is insufficient and must be reinforced either from the right or left.

Convicted and Banished.
M. Malvy had been minister of the interior under three different cabinets during the war. His name is coupled in the mind of the people with M. Caillaux as the two statesmen who were convicted of defeatism in wartime and banished. He was reinstated by M. Herriot in 1924 and once more has become one of the ruling powers in French politics.

The new cabinet is officially announced as follows:
Premier and foreign minister, Aristide Briand.
Minister of justice, Pierre Laval.
War, Paul Painleve.
Navy, Georges Leygues.
Interior, Louis Malvy.
Finance, Raoul Peret.
Colonies, Leon Peret.

HUNT REDOUBLED FOR 'LONE BANDIT' STILL AT LARGE

Raymond Sisson and Dave Perkins Offer No Resistance When Over-taken Beyond Canton.

DECLARE TRAVIS DESERTED THEM

Johnson Calls for "Supreme Authority" of Counties Over Convict Camps and Wardens.

Two of the trio of dangerous and finished criminals who Tuesday escaped from the North Side convict camp after a bloody battle with their guards, early Wednesday night were captured in the mountain fastness north of Canton by heavily-armed posses of citizens and officers who for long hours had combed the hills.

The two men captured were Raymond Sisson, who some months ago staged the daring robbery of Foote & Davies company, binding and gagging a nightwatchman and securing as loot thousands of dollars worth of state revenue stamps; and Dave Perkins, serving a term for highway robbery. They were rushed to Fulton tower in an automobile under heavy guard.

R. L. Travis, the "lone bandit" and last of the trio, was still at large, and the hunt for him was being pressed with redoubled vigor.

Two Are Captured.
Sisson and Perkins were captured seven miles west of Canton on the Talk road by a party of pursuers who came upon them as they were lying in a thicket by the roadside. On Sisson's person was found a revolver he had taken from one of the guards. In it were three cartridges.

Exhausted from lack of food and fatigued by their long, damp and cold trapping, Sisson fell as he and Perkins jumped to their feet at the sight of the approaching policemen and convict camp employees. They offered no resistance.

They were returned to Atlanta by County Policemen L. W. Allen and Vernon Hornsby, and Sam O. Satterfield, a truck driver at Bellwood camp, and J. D. Thomason, foreman of the

$205,826 PLEDGED IN EMORY'S DRIVE

Enthusiasm High as Workers Continue Intensive Campaign To Secure $750,000 in Atlanta

A total of $205,826 had been subscribed in Atlanta Wednesday night by leaders in Emory university's $750,000 expansion campaign. This left the sum of $544,274 to be raised before March 19, the closing date.

"The campaign is really just getting started as the great bulk of prospective subscribers are yet to be heard from," said Ward Wight, prominent realtor, who presided at Wednesday's report meeting.

CITY BOND SUCCESS SEEN BY LEADERS

Pledges of Support From Citizens and Various Civic Organizations Add To Enthusiasm.

Additional indications of a record vote favoring passage of every item in the proposed $8,000,000 bond issue for civic improvements for Atlanta poured into bond campaign headquarters Wednesday as scores of endorsements were received and enthusiastic support pledged by citizens of all walks of life.

Mayor Walter A. Sims late Wednesday stated that he was selecting members of the bond commission to supervise expenditure of the fund and that he would name such citizens to the commission that implicit confidence would be placed in it. He declared that the list probably would be completed this morning.

LEADERS OUTLINE NEEDS FOR BONDS

Atlanta stands at the cross roads in progress and can move forward without any extra expense through a bond issue for public improvements, or can lag behind other cities in these needed improvements, according to Mayor Walter A. Sims in a speech at a meeting of the Atlanta Improvement association, held Wednesday afternoon in Rich's tea room.

Other speeches in support of the proposed bond issue were made by Colonel H. H. Dean, George Fausch, Thomas Connally, A. D. Greenfield and George Boynton. C. D. Knight presided.

Mayor Sims outlined in detail the needs of the city of Atlanta and explained where the money derived from an $8,000,000 bond issue would be used.

Phone Anniversary Is Observed Here With Ceremonies

"Open house" and appropriate ceremonies Wednesday at Ivy, Walnut, Hemlock and Dearborn telephone exchanges featured Atlanta's part in the national celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the invention and first use of the telephone.

Every employee of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph company and the American Telephone company in Atlanta wore little blue buttons, appropriately inscribed, during the day.

An elaborate banquet at the Ansley hotel, attended by high telephone officials of New York as guests of local officials, officially closed the day's observance program Wednesday night.

NORRIS EXONERATED OF EMBEZZLEMENT

T. P. Norris, formerly a clerk in the office of the waterworks department of the city, indicted on January 29 on charges of embezzling $173, was exonerated Wednesday by a jury in Judge G. H. Howard's division of Fulton superior court.

The indictment set out that on November 30, 1925, Mr. Norris, as an employee of the city of Atlanta, embezzled $173, the property of the city of Atlanta, which he "fraudulently converted to his own use."

A warrant was sworn out in the municipal court by E. B. Florence, city tax collector, and following a hearing before Judge Luther Z. Ross, Norris was bound over to the superior court under $100 bond.

Norris, at the time of his arrest, emphatically denied taking the money, stating that he had receipts in his possession for every cent of the amount collected on water rents.

DeKalb County Grand Jury Urges Renovation Rather Than New Jail

Decatur, Ga., March 10.—(Special.) The DeKalb county grand jury, Homer F. George foreman, which adjourned today, approved in its presentments the plans recently provided by County Commissioner L. T. X. Nash for the enlargement and renovation of the present jail rather than build a new one as suggested recently.

The jury also commends the jail officials for the efficient manner in which they are caring for the prisoners under the present conditions. The report on the pauper farm and county convict camps state that they are being well managed and the inmates are being well cared for. It is, however, advised that fire extinguisher systems be provided for both camps and pauper farm, and convict guards are cautioned to keep themselves at proper distance from prisoners to insure safety from attack.

Legislation was recommended giving the state an equal number of strikes of a jury as now enjoyed by the defense.

CRIMSON WARBLERS SING HERE SATURDAY

Students from University of Alabama, noted in the athletic world as Southern Conference football champions, will seek musical honors in Georgia Saturday night, when 25 singers representing the Crimson Warblers from Alabama will give a concert in the Agnes Scott gymnasium. It will be the first time in two years that the Alabama Glee club has appeared in Atlanta, and an unusually good program has been arranged, according to leaders.

SOUTH SUFFERING FROM 'PATRONAGE'

Washington, March 10.—(AP)—The attack begun a week ago by Representative Wargach, republican, Texas, on the methods of dispensing federal patronage in the south was widened today to a point where southern democrats in the house flatly charged the barter and sale of offices.

Coinciding with the resumption of the agitation in congress, R. B. Creager, republican national committeeman for Texas, called at the white house to advise President Coolidge to take no notice of complaints against distribution of patronage in Texas.

Representative Busby, democrat, Mississippi, who has pending a resolution dealing with the subject, opened the discussion in the house, and he was quickly reinforced by Representative Wilson, Mississippi, and Stevenson, South Carolina, democrats, who wanted information furnished the house on a situation described by Mr. Wilson as a "disgrace to decent government."

Declaring corruption had accompanied federal appointments "over the entire south," Representative Busby was especially vigorous in his denunciation of conditions in Mississippi. Those guilty he named as agents responsible to Perry W. Howard, a Washington employee of the department of justice. Two of Howard's half-brothers, he said, had been credited in reports reaching him with offering a United States marshalship for $1,500 cash.

Even preferred positions, such as good places at postoffice windows, Mr. Busby said, had been made the basis for cash transactions, and Mr. Wilson declared "it is commonly reported that postoffice appointments in Mississippi are sold for various sums of money or other considerations."

Representative Stevenson asked that the result of an inquiry a year ago by postal inspectors and department of justice agents into reports of the sale of postoffice jobs in South Carolina be reported to the house.

Blaze on Liner America Causes $2,000,000 Loss

Newport News, Va., March 10.—(AP)—Fire, the origin of which has not been determined, today swept through the palatial United States liner America as she lay at her berth at the plant of the Newport News Shipbuilding & Drydock Co., gutting three decks, damaging others and leaving in its wake a trail of destruction variously estimated at from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000.

The America had just been recon-ditioned throughout at a cost of approximately $500,000 and was to have been delivered to her owners tomorrow, being scheduled to leave here tomorrow afternoon for New York.

Five hundred passengers already had been signed by officials of the owning company for the vessel's first trip. She was to have left New York on March 24.

The blaze was discovered about 7:40 o'clock and a few minutes later most of C deck was in flames. All efforts to check the blaze were unavailing. Volumes of dense black smoke poured from the craft, choking and blinding the firemen, half a dozen or so of whom had to be carried off by their companions. Gas masks and wet cloths were called into play, but the firemen—regulars and hundreds of volunteers—had to "come up for air" time after time.

The yard had the craft insured with Johnson & Higgins and this firm is expected to have a force of surveyors here sometime tomorrow. An adjustment will be made with the least possible delay, and it is probable that the craft will be rebuilt. In the absence of advices from officials of the United States lines no one connected can say what will be done.

B. F. VINSON HOST TO A & P MANAGER AT BIG BANQUET

More than 100 officers, managers and assistant managers of the Atlantic and Pacific Tea company stores were guests at a banquet at the Henry Grady hotel Wednesday night given by B. F. Vinson, vice president of the company here, in "appreciation of their untiring efforts and wonderful progress during the past few months."

T. H. Caraker, of the local branch of the Atlantic and Pacific Tea stores, acted as toastmaster.

Eighty-seven managers of stores in the Atlanta headquarters and seven assistant managers were present. Among speakers were B. F. Vinson, vice president; C. T. Duncan, superintendent of the Birmingham branch; O. L. Black, L. C. Berry, J. F. Barnes, J. D. Zenker, J. A. Moehan, P. W. Franklin, W. E. Eldridge, H. L. Girtman, W. A. Dodgen, J. E. Bowler, D. M. Cowan, J. T. Stillwell and L. E. Jones, of The Atlanta Constitution, and others.

Among the others present were: W. M. Kitchen, E. F. Turner, W. A. Landers, R. L. Jackson, W. F. White, R. L. Davis, C. H. MacMillan, R. L. Henley, C. H. Snyder, and others, representing all Atlantic and Pacific Tea company stores in Atlanta.

LIBRARY RECORDS REVEAL VARIETY OF READING TASTES

The regular monthly meeting of the board of trustees of Carnegie library was held Tuesday night at the library and reports of the month's work were heard. Miss Tommie Dora Barker, librarian, reported that February had been one of the busiest months of the winter and that frequently every chair in reading rooms had been occupied; 59,535 volumes were lent for home reading while over 10,000 readers sought information in the reading and reference rooms.

Records of the reference department show that there were over 500 separate subjects of research in that department, that students sought material on 45 debate subjects and individuals asked for special reading lists on 18 subjects.

RAIN AND WARMER, ATLANTA PREDICTION

General rains over the state with a slight rise in temperatures was predicted late Wednesday by C. F. von Herrmann, local meteorologist. Mr. von Herrmann said the rains would probably continue until late Friday afternoon.

The minimum temperature Wednesday was 35 degrees and the highest recorded during the day was 48 degrees. The thermometer will range from 40 to 55 degrees today, Mr. von Herrmann said.

Former Baptist Barred on Virgin Birth Question

Newark, N. J., March 10.—Rev. Lester H. Clee, a former Baptist clergyman, has been barred by the Newark Presbytery after a bitter debate because he refuses to deny or affirm belief in the virgin birth of Christ.

Five years ago Clee sought admission to the Presbyterian ministry and was rejected. Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick is another prominent Baptist preacher who has been denied admission by the Presbyterians.

Clee came to Newark in January, and accepted an offer to occupy the pulpit of the Second Presbyterian church. He became popular and won numerous friends who fought his battle for him in the presbytery when the subject of his rejection was brought up.

Staunch Presbyterians, however, refused to weaken in their opposition to this Baptist, who declared that the resurrection of Christ on Easter morning was nothing more than a "spiritual" resurrection, and who refused to give his views concerning the feeding of the multitude with the loaves and the fishes.

CUBISTS DESIGN NEW HAT STYLES IN LONDON SHOPS

London, March 10.—Cubist hats have added to the sensation displayed in the early fashion openings in London.

Zig-zagged braiding, in bright colors and in silver, appears on the hats, many of which have odd-looking brims and crowns. There is no set place for the ribbons which are used on many of the new creations. The hats may have wide brims or no brims; high crowns or no crowns at all. But the complete effect must be unusual according to fashion's dictates.

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, former United States Pure Food Commissioner, and later head of the Good Housekeeping Bureau of Foods, Sanitation and Health, has referred to Salmon as "The King of Food Fish." Salmon is a rich, delicious fish found in great abundance in Alaska and waters tributary to the North Pacific. Large modern packing plants, sanitary in highest degree, dot the northern shores.

The salmon are caught in nets, cleaned and washed, cut and placed in hermetically sealed cans; cooked in live steam and brought to your table with all the original flavor and rich essence retained.

Years ago salmon were first canned on the Sacramento river; then on the Columbia river, Puget Sound, and now Alaska is the greatest source of supply. The industry now packs salmon to the amount of $50,000,000 a year.

Red salmon were the first to be canned, but pink salmon are much more abundant, have all the food value and fine flavor of the other and cost you only 20 or 25 cents a can.

At this price a pound of pink salmon compares in food value with 1.4 pounds of ham, costing 63 cents, the same amount of chicken at 49 cents, sirloin steak costing 52 cents, or a dozen eggs at present market price. (Figures from Secretary of Commerce Hoover's recent bulletin.)

How Salmon Compares In Food Value

	% Protein
Pink Salmon	21.4
Sirloin Steak	16.5
Sugar-Cured Ham	14.2
Macaroni	13.4
Spring Chicken	12.0
Rice	8.0
Baked Beans (canned)	6.9
Potatoes	1.8

Salmon Rich in Iodine, Goiter's Foe

The following significant statement regarding the iodine content of canned salmon and its beneficial effect in the treatment of goiter appears in "Canned Salmon," just issued by the Bureau of Fisheries, Dept. of Commerce, Washington, D. C. Send for free copy. Associated Salmon Packers, 2501 L. C. Smith Bldg., Seattle.

"Goiter is very common in many parts of the United States, affecting in some instances over fifty per cent of the population. Iodine or foods rich in iodine have been found to be very efficient in the prevention and treatment of this disease. In fact, goiter seldom occurs in those sections in which the food and water contain relatively large amounts of iodine. Sea foods are rich in this essential element, as might be expected when one considers that soluble iodine salts washed from the land have been accumulating for millions of years in the ocean. Chum and pink salmon contain more than ten times as much iodine as meat, milk, eggs, cheese, fresh water fish or most of the fruits and vegetables."

Ask for Salmon Sandwiches, Salad, etc., in Restaurants and Cafes

They're wonderful — those Pink Salmon Sandwiches. If your lunch counter or cafe doesn't serve them, ask that they be added to the menu. When you want a quick bite at noon or in mid-afternoon, they are mighty satisfying. Pink Salmon salad is delicious.

CANNED SALMON

Tempting Wholesome Dishes —that cost so little

Do you realize how many delicious dishes may be added to the daily menu by Canned Pink Salmon?

Serve it in any number of savory ways—hot, or cold as it comes from the can! Especially good right now, when the Lenten season taxes one's ingenuity to find new and appetizing combinations of fish for the family table.

Canned Pink Salmon should be on the pantry shelf of every home. Thoroughly cooked in the can it is ready in an instant for a most satisfying cold lunch, a delicious salad, or mixed with a little mayonnaise and minced ripe olives for salmon sandwiches.

A full-pound can of Pink Salmon, sold in most stores at not more than 25 cents, combined with rice, spaghetti or macaroni, like the dish pictured below, will make a delicious meal for five or six persons—at a total cost of perhaps 35 cents.

Creamed salmon, salmon en casserole, scalloped salmon, salmon chowder supreme, salmon loaf—in scores of other ways you may enjoy the "King of Food Fish," which comes to your table better in the can than fresh from the sea.

Canned Pink Salmon contains a much higher percentage of proteins than sirloin steak, eggs, sugar-cured ham, spring chicken, rice or potatoes. All the precious iodine content retained, for the health of every member of the family—especially children.

Try the recipes printed on this page, but we especially urge you to enter the $1,000.00 prize recipe contest—we want your favorite, individual salmon recipe, so thousands of others, too, may enjoy it.

PINK SALMON CHOWDER

1 lb. can Pink Salmon 1 medium-sized potato
1 small onion 1 lb. salt pork
1 pint milk 2 crackers
Salt and pepper to taste

Break fish into pieces. Dice potato, pork and onion. Put pork and onion into pan and fry quickly, until they are a light brown. Place potato, fish, salt and onion in a large saucepan, dust with salt and pepper. Cover the whole with boiling water and let simmer for 30 minutes. Add pint of milk and 2 finely broken crackers. Serve in soup plates. An excellent chowder, inexpensive and nutritious.

SALMON LOAF WITH DRAWN BUTTER SAUCE

1 lb. can Pink Salmon 1 cupful soft bread
1 cupful milk 2 beaten eggs
1 tsp. pepper 1 lb. salt pork
1 tsp. minced onion 1 cupful rind of lemon

Draw liquor from salmon and reserve for sauce. Separate salmon into flakes and mix with other ingredients. Mold into a loaf, pack in greased bread pan and bake in moderate oven for 40 minutes. Remove to a hot platter, decorate with parsley and lemon slices and serve with it drawn butter sauce.

SALMON CROQUETTES

1 lb. can Pink Salmon 1 cupful milk
1 can peas 1 egg (additional)
2 tbsp. butter 1 tsp. salt
4 tbsp. flour 1 tsp. pepper
1 egg 1 cupful fine bread crumbs

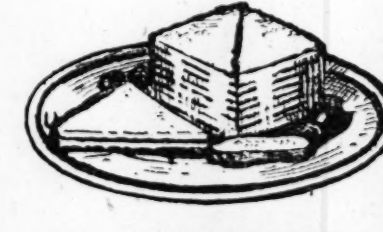

fat for frying
Flake salmon. Melt butter, stir in flour and add gradually the milk, stirring constantly. It will be very thick. Add seasonings, mix with peas and salmon. Add beaten egg, then cool. When cool, form into croquettes, roll in crumbs, then in beaten egg to which has been added a tsp. of water, then again in crumbs, and fry in deep hot fat to a golden brown. Drain on brown paper and serve on hot platter surrounded by hot marsh potatoes decorated with parsley.

PINK SALMON SALAD

1 lb. can Pink Salmon 1 pint celery
1 pint mayonnaise 3 hard-boiled eggs

Pick the fish apart and add diced celery and mayonnaise dressing, tossing lightly. Season to taste. Save a little mayonnaise to pour over the top. Top with eggs cut in halves and serve in salad dish on crisp lettuce.

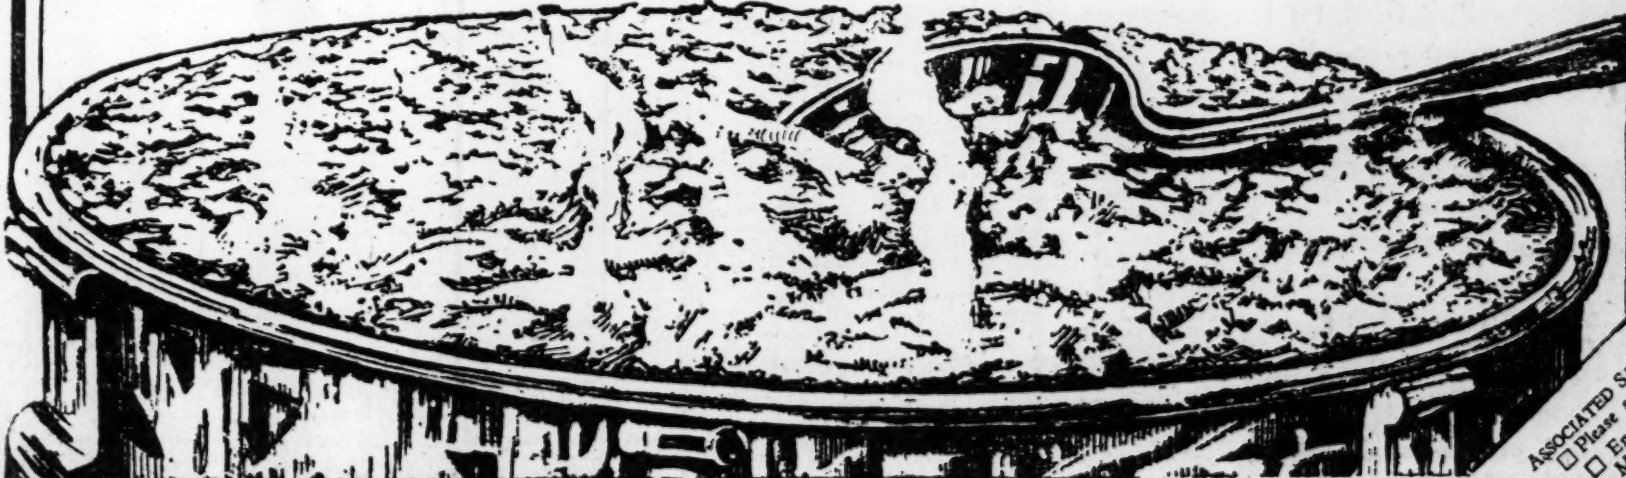

PINK SALMON SANDWICHES

One cup boiled salad dressing, 1 1/2 cups minced Pink Salmon, season to taste. Mix dressing and salmon to a paste. Slice bread very thin and spread with the salmon paste, cut into dainty shapes and garnish with watercress or parsley. These can be made 2 or 3 hours before serving by placing closely together and covering with damp napkin. The Salmon Paste will keep indefinitely. Very good.

PINK SALMON WITH MACARONI

A delicious one-dish meal for five or six persons at a total cost of about 35c! Pick one can of Pink Salmon into small pieces. Make one pint of ordinary White Sauce. Put a layer of boiled macaroni broken in inch lengths in the bottom of baking dish, next a layer of sauce, then a layer of salmon, continuing until dish is filled. Sauce should come last and be sprinkled with buttered crumbs. Bake until brown.

FEDERATION OF TRADES MAINTAIN BOND VIEWS

Holding to their former demand for $5,000,000 bonds for schools, members of the Federation of Trades Wednesday night tabled a motion seeking to place that body on record as favoring the proposed $8,000,000 bond issue for city improvements.

This action followed an appeal for support of all items in the proposed issue by Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of Atlanta public schools. In explaining the bond issue which will be voted on March 24, Mr. Sutton pointed out that the $3,500,000 item which would go for school expansion would care for 10,000 of the 15,000 children for whom school facilities were needed.

"It is better to take a half loaf than no loaf at all," declared Mr. Sutton. The resolution offered immediately following Mr. Sutton's address, and signed by several members of the federation, was tabled by a vote of 17 to 8.

The purpose of the resolution, it was claimed by its advocates, was to place the federation in the position of receding from its former stand for $5,000,000 for schools only, and to obtain the federation's support of the $3,500,000 in bonds which the $8,000,000 will give city schools.

Professor J. H. Wells, superintendent of Fulton county schools, deplored the effects of a recent decision of the supreme court in refusing to uphold a levy of an additional 1 mill tax for county school purposes, stating that the decision cost the county $250,000. He stated that he had appealed to Governor Walker to include a provision to take care of this situation in educational legislation now pending in the special general assembly session.

A resolution indorsing Professor Wells' position and appealing to the governor to approve the suggestion was passed.

A number of routine matters were disposed of following the main business features of the session.

Defeat of Bonds Would Halt All Progress and Prosperity

Defeat of the proposed $8,000,000 bond issue for civic improvements in Atlanta would sound the death knell of progress and prosperity, Thomas K. Glenn, philanthropist and prominent business man, declared Wednesday in announcing that he will support every item in the proposition.

"This is a crucial point in Atlanta's history and victory for bonds means a bright, brilliant future for the south's Gate City," Mr. Glenn said, "while defeat means retrogression and a slump. I hope all Atlanta will join in the drive to get enough voters to the polls to assure passage of the issue. To my mind this is the only problem, for everywhere I find staunch friends of the plan, so I believe there will be an overwhelming vote in favor of ratification and my only concern is to get a majority of registered voters to cast ballots."

"I feel that so much is at stake that I am taking this opportunity to appeal to loyal and progressive Atlantans to go to the polls and vote for each item in the list."

"Other southern cities are making wonderful strides and we must keep Atlanta in the fore by assuring her future development. I shall do my utmost to assist in any way possible in securing passage of the proposals. I feel that it is the duty of citizens to flaunt the Atlanta spirit—that something which cements in a closer relationship every one of us—by giving this proposal the biggest vote ever accorded any measure the public has been called to pass upon."

"This is our town to make of it what we will. We are all proud of it and we owe to posterity a better, bigger and greater city for having lived in it. The bond issue is a patriotic move and I know Atlanta is the most patriotic city in the whole world."

"Again I say—REGISTER and DON'T FAIL TO VOTE!"

No arrests had been made and no warrants had been issued at a late hour today, it was stated at Royston. Royston was reported as "quiet" today and citizens there appeared reli-cent to talk, although it was generally admitted to have been a "night-riding, robbed affair."

RIGBY IS UNCONSCIOUS IN ANDERSON HOSPITAL

Anderson, S. C., March 10.—(Special.)—The condition of Herman Rigby, brought to an Anderson hospital early this morning from Royston, Ga., following a shooting affair there, was unconscious late tonight and physicians held no hope for his recovery.

Rigby is suffering from a bullet wound at the base of the brain.

ROAD BONDS WIN IN THREE COUNTIES

Perry, Ga., March 10.—(Special.)—By a vote of 747 to 31, Houston county today voted an issue of $200,000 which will be used in paving the roads of the county.

Houston is traversed by the Dixie highway, Route 7 State highway and by Route 11 from Macon to Perry and thence to Hawkinsville.

Telfair voters AUTHORIZED BONDS. Milledge, Ga., March 10.—(Special.) Telfair county today voted for paved roads and cement bridges by an overwhelming majority, the vote for bonds being 1,503, and against bonds only 120.

The election held today calls for a huge expenditure of $185,000 and $140,000 to be used in matching federal and state aid on the two state highways that traverse the county, the Bee Line route to Florida and the Jeff Davis highway.

The precinct of Cobsville was the banner precinct in the county, polling 53 votes, all favoring bonds for roads, and one vote against bridge bonds. McKee, with registration of 501, voted 542 for 4 against bonds.

APPLING COUNTY VOTES BONDS. Baxley, Ga., March 10.—(Special.) Appling county voters indorsed bonds to the amount of $240,000 today to match state and federal funds for the construction of roads in the state highway system. A light vote was cast due to uncertainty over highway legislation outlook, 498 votes being polled in favor of bonds and 130 against.

One isolated county precinct gave a heavy majority against bonds, while two others cast no votes against and seven others gave majorities for bonds.

Proceeds of the bond issue will be applied primarily to paving of the Appling stretch of federal interstate highway number one from the Altamaha river to Satilla creek at Bacon, the county line, and of state route 27, Macon to Brunswick via Jeff Davis line.

Action of Appling voters assures paving of important links in two main highways of great importance to the state.

Padlocks will be applied in cases of violation of liquor laws, while condemnation proceedings against houses operating disorderly and immoral places will be taken by the state.

Other Routine Business. Police Officers J. R. Jackson and W. H. Whitley were exonerated of charges of failure to perform their duties. Attorneys W. Paul Carpenter and Jim Davis represented the defendants.

The following were named as supernumeraries: J. C. Sartain, E. B. Hitt, Delamar O. Harris, B. O. Carroll, W. J. Foster and J. R. Smith.

A. H. Cappel and J. M. Fletcher, legislators from Lamar and Monroe counties, respectively, were visitors at the session.

Southern railway shops also indorsed the proposal at a meeting Wednesday. Mayor Sims, Edgar Neely and Glen Dewberry spoke.

The Moseley Park Improvement club and the Parent-Teacher association of the Stanton school will hold a joint meeting at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the school building. Rev. W. H. Faust, pastor of Gordon Street Baptist church, will preside.

Dr. R. M. Eubanks, president of the Atlanta board of education, will speak.

R. C. Shoup To Speak. R. C. Shoup, prominent Atlanta real estate man and an enthusiastic worker for the bonds, will address two meetings, one today and another Friday.

The Parent-Teacher association of the O'Keefe High school will hear him at 8 o'clock tonight at the school and the Parent-Teacher association of the English Avenue school will be addressed by him at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Every indication points to an overwhelming vote for ratification of the bonds on March 24—the same date as the Fulton county primary elections of the movement started Wednesday.

"Atlanta cannot fail to vote this—the greatest guarantee of her future in the city's history," Mayor Sims declared Wednesday. "Everywhere there comes to leaders of the campaign renewed pledges of support and there is no longer a doubt but that this proposal will receive the most hearty and decisive indorsement of voters of the city ever given a similar plan."

TWO ESCAPED CONVICTS CAPTURED

camp garage. The two policemen had drawn revolvers, while the two convict camp employees each kept the prisoners covered with high-powered rifles.

The two men told officers that Travis left them Tuesday night and that they knew nothing concerning him after that time. Officers accredited this statement and were conducting a minute search for the last of the escaped bandits in the immediate scene of the capture.

In the opinion of those in close touch with the chase, Travis will soon be behind prison bars again, so closely is the search for him being pushed.

Following capture of two of the escaped trio, Edwin F. Johnson, of the police committee of the Fulton county commission, who directed the pursuit, stated that he believed better order and discipline at county convict camps could be maintained if there was a "clearer understanding and closer cooperation between county authorities and the state prison commission."

He added that he hoped some plan might be worked out in the future whereby each county will have supreme jurisdiction over its own institutions so as to govern its own institutions so as to suit their own particular needs," he said, referring to Tuesday's convict meeting.

Under the present system, county wardens cannot be elected by county authorities. The commissioners have only the right to nominate them, and the prison commission has the privilege of rejecting as many as might be nominated.

"Therefore, it is next to impossible to have that full measure of cooperation at all times under all circumstances, that is so necessary to maintain strict order and discipline in the camps all the time."

Hills Are Combed

Apprehension of the two men came at the close of a day during which the hills of north Georgia were sounded to the hue and cry of a man hunt, and three possums armed to the teeth combed the countryside for the desperate convicts.

Fulton county authorities all day made the wires hum with messages of warning to points all about Canton. Sheriffs in Tennessee, Alabama, North and South Carolina were notified to be on the lookout for the heavily-armed and dangerous men.

The pursuit was made keener by announcement from Fulton county authorities of a reward of $250 each on the heads of the convicts.

While citizens and officers scoured the hills north of Canton Wednesday in quest of the trio which escaped from the North Side convict camp Tuesday night, P. P. Newsome, a guard, and H. Davis, a convict, both believed to be mortally wounded, waged an uphill battle for life in Atlanta hospitals. Physicians at Davis-Fischer sanitarium Wednesday night were more hopeful of the recovery of Newsome at Grady hospital. Davis was still reported at death's door.

Davis, who is at the Davis-Fischer sanitarium, is suffering from three pistol ball wounds—one of which passed directly through his body, entering almost even with the right shoulder blade and puncturing the right lung.

in two places. Davis is suffering from a gunshot wound in the eye, and, even if he recovers, his vision will be destroyed, doctors state. He is at Grady hospital.

This trio of fleeing convicts secured a large supply of ammunition they took from a hardware store at Waleka, Ga., which they burglarized Tuesday night.

Dangerous Criminals. Travis, the last of the three to remain at large, is regarded as especially dangerous by Fulton county and by city officers. A Travis-traveler was termed by A. Lamar Poole and S. A. Smith as one of the most "cold-blooded criminals to come under surveillance of Atlanta police." Officers Poole and Smith arrested him last spring, after he had, single-handed, held up and robbed at least ten local stores of the L. W. Rogers Grocery company and several Atlantic and Pacific Tea company stores.

Members of each pursuing posse were cautioned as to the peril threatening them if the bandits were rounded up, and were warned to "take no chances." One of the posses was headed by Mr. Johnson, who telephoned Chief George Mathieson as to the progress of the hunt in the hills near Canton.

Sedan Found on Road. The expensive sedan of Mrs. James R. Gray, which was taken by the fleeing prisoners, was found abandoned in the mud on a little-traveled road near Canton. The convict garb of the three men was found discarded a short distance away. The men secured overalls from the Waleka store they burglarized.

Two other convicts were injured during the musing. They are Roy Wilson, who had both feet crushed beneath the wheels of the heavy Fulton county truck, and W. P. Collier, who was wounded by gunshot from a shotgun in the right side of his back and right arm. Wilson remained at Grady hospital with Davis, under heavy guard. Collier was returned to the convict camp after his wounds were dressed.

The escape of three convicts and injury of three others and a convict guard was the result of a musing staged on North Side drive while a Fulton county truck containing eight convicts was en route to the North Side camp after a day's work on the road.

Sisson, Travis and Perkins assumed charge of the truck, driving out Pace's Ferry road and crossing the Chattahoochee river, where they encountered Mrs. Gray's sedan, which was driven by her chauffeur, Mrs. Gray and her sister-in-law, Miss Josephine Gray, were forced out at pistol point, and the fugitives turned the machine around, disappearing in the direction of Marietta.

why Frigidaire has won World Leadership IN ELECTRIC REFRIGERATION

1 Greatest Engineering Resources.

The engineering laboratories of Delco-Light Company and General Motors Corporation have contributed to Frigidaire the experience and knowledge of the world's largest makers of fine mechanical products.

2 Largest Production.

With more than 100,000 satisfied users—and with its present tremendous daily output, Frigidaire effects all the economies of quantity production and offers greater value to the customer.

3 Most Complete Line.

The Frigidaire line includes both air-cooled and water-cooled compressors, complete cabinet models of household refrigerators of from five to fifteen cubic feet of food storage capacity, units for converting any size ice-box into an electric refrigerator and commercial Frigidaires for every requirement. This wide variety of styles and sizes offers to every customer a Frigidaire exactly suited to the needs of that installation, and guarantees efficiency, low cost of operation, and permanent satisfaction.

4 Pioneer Builders of Cabinet Models.

The makers of Frigidaire are the pioneer builders of electric refrigerators complete with cabinets. Research and development in insulation, arrangement and design have resulted in cabinets of great durability, economy and beauty.

5 Built Completely in Frigidaire Factories.

Frigidaire cabinets and mechanical units are built entirely in the Frigidaire factories where the equipment is especially designed for electric refrigeration production, where the highest standards of accuracy are maintained, and where fine craftsmanship is rewarded.

6 Sales and Service Organization Covers Entire Country.

A sales and service organization of more than 3,500 men, located in the cities and towns throughout the country assures dependable advice in the purchase of Frigidaire and the continuous maintenance of satisfactory service.

new metal cabinet Frigidaires offer revolutionary values—

1 Standard Frigidaire Cooling Mechanism.

The same cooling mechanisms which are already serving more than 100,000 users have been built into six new metal cabinet Frigidaires.

2 Beautiful in Appearance.

Built of smooth steel, finished in enduring white Duco, with bright metal trim, these new metal cabinet Frigidaires set new standards of beauty.

3 Lined with One-Piece Porcelain-Enameled Steel.

Five of the new metal cabinet Frigidaires are lined with seamless, porcelain-enameled steel—a spotless, white lining, beautifully clean and very easy to keep clean.

4 Insulated with Solid Corkboard.

All Frigidaire cabinets are insulated with thick, solid corkboard—a wonderfully efficient insulation.

5 Single and Double-Depth Ice Trays.

Frigidaire offers a new arrangement of freezing trays—of single or double-depth, permitting the freezing of larger quantities of desserts and salads, as well as an ample supply of ice cubes.

6 Prices $245 and up, f. o. b. Dayton.

The new metal cabinet Frigidaires are low in price. They can be purchased for as little as $245, f. o. b. Dayton.

7 Sold on Deferred Payments.

It is very easy to buy Frigidaire. The GMAC payment plan—the plan on which thousands of General Motors automobiles are being purchased each month—is available to the purchaser of Frigidaire. A small first payment will put Frigidaire in your home.

The new metal cabinet Frigidaires are here now! Come to our display room, see for yourself the beauty and value of each one of them—and learn how easily and inexpensively Frigidaire can be put into your home.

GOD FAILS NOT.—And it came to pass that the king of Egypt died, and the children of Israel sighed by reason of the bondage, and they said, "Why do we die?" And God remembered His covenant. Ex. 2:23-24.

PRAYER.—Dear Lord, prove also to us daily that we are not forgotten by Thee.

NOT OUR CONCERN.

There is a very deep "concern" on the part of some Georgia newspapers and politicians who are opposing the creation of a system by which this state may build within seven years a coordinated network of county seat to county seat paved highways, and North Carolina's bonded indebtedness.

In the first place, we people in Georgia who own no property in North Carolina, do not vote in that state, or in any way participate in her public affairs, haven't any right to shed any copious tears about North Carolina. Their bonded indebtedness is none of our business.

We do have an interest in the great bonded indebtedness of the Southern railroad, for it has made it possible to serve us from the east with one of the best double-tracked road systems in America. That its stock has more than quadrupled in the past few years, under the "burden" of those bonds, only illustrates the soundness of the business judgment that capitalized that road's credit to better serve it.

We have an interest in the bonded indebtedness of the other great railroads that serve Georgia, for by those indebtednesses our services are better and we enjoy transportation facilities that we otherwise could not enjoy.

We are concerned in the heavy bonded indebtedness of the American Bell Telephone and Telegraph company, for by capitalizing its credit, and extending and perfecting its service, every Georgia city and town and rural community is in direct talking touch with each other and the world. Otherwise we would be communicating by horse-back messengers as we were in 1877 when Georgia's constitution was framed.

We are concerned in the bonded indebtedness of the Georgia counties and towns and cities that have invested the proceeds in the future of our children, giving them the foundations in character and intellectual training to make their lives useful, and to carry on when we are gone.

But the people of North Carolina are eminently satisfied with the system by which that state has constructed the most complete highway system in the south.

A township constable could not be elected in opposition to her highway and school expansion programs. Governor McLean, the business governor, is the leader in the group enthusiasm of all North Carolinians. If the 2,500,000 people in North Carolina are satisfied, why should some of the Georgia newspapers and politicians be tearing their hairs out by the roots in their mournings for them?

Why not mourn some for Georgia? North Carolina is a smaller state but markets $100,000,000 of farm products a year more than we do in Georgia. Her manufacturing output is several times more than ours in Georgia. She is the second largest operating spindle state in America. She has the largest per capita wealth of any state in the south. She has the finest coordinated school system of any state in the south. She is cited as an example for sound, sane, conservative progress by every expert economist in America. Her people are paying less taxes on true property valuations than in Georgia. Her people pay no state or local valuations of any kind. Her farm land values, at relative distances from market centers, are four times greater, average, than in Georgia. She has less vacant farms in the whole state than Georgia has in her one-fourth of the state, however the cross lines may be run.

THE PEACH FESTIVAL.
Thousands of people from all sections of Georgia are journeying to Fort Valley to witness, and participate in, the two-day peach festival which begins today.

Special trains will be run from every corner of the state. The highways will be congested with automobiles. And the great throng will find the hospitality of the good people of Fort Valley and neighboring communities typical of the hospitality of the south—warm, cheerful, sincere.

The peach festival has become a national-amusement institution. Even Andy Gump, with his versatility of thought and multitude of cares, and especial watchfulness for the changing fortunes of his Australian kinsman, finds time to plant his big and generous heart in the very midst of the blossoming areas of middle Georgia.

What the Mardi Gras is to New Orleans the peach festival is to Peach county—and to this great state that glories in the pride of its luscious and incomparable fruit.

The pageants this year will be greater and bigger than ever.

The king and queen, Mr. and Mrs. John Allen, have a home that is state-wide famous for its warmth and cheer, and the court will find a palace that is different from the cheerless marble halls of the empire castles of old.

Atlanta will send a great delegation. The legislature will be there. Business men, farmers, professional men—the banker and the baker—will be there.

And everybody is praying for weather in keeping with the sunny urgency of the pageant to chards.

The hats of all Georgians are off to the metropolis of the peach belt. Georgia is the home of the world's greatest and best—and Georgia loves to contemplate its potential economic value as well as its boundless aesthetic appeal.

DECATUR'S BOND ISSUE.
Cheering news comes from Decatur that there is practically no opposition there to the bond issue of $170,000 to be voted upon on March 20. This issue is proposed for the extension of the water and sewer systems and for the erection of additional school buildings and a city hall. The campaign for the bonds is directed at getting a large vote to the polls in order that the required constitutional vote may be cast.

Decatur is Atlanta's neighbor and shares in the community's growth, its civic needs reaching such proportions that expansion is necessary. Therefore the city commissioners, not having the cash in hand to make the necessary improvements, have wisely resorted to a bond issue, whereby the improvements may go forward and the interest and principal on the bonds be paid with the increase that will naturally flow into the city's treasury as result of the improvements made.

Just as practically every farmer in Georgia at this time of the year is making rearrangements at his bank for enough "bonds" to carry him through the year, or until his crop is gathered and sold, so does Decatur, Atlanta and other municipalities seek to raise money by bond issues for needed improvements.

The bond election at Decatur is watched with interest, as the expansion of that growing city is coincident with the growth of Atlanta, which is also seeking to carry a bond issue for imperative expansions.

That Decatur will vote overwhelmingly for bonds, there appears no doubt.

"Here is another letter that makes me happy," says Peterson. "One that would rather have than a thousand dollars."

"Money isn't everything in this world. There is many a big-hearted man who would give all he has to earth to be able to produce a remedy with such mighty healing power as Peterson's Ointment."

"Read this letter by Mrs. Albert Smith. It seems like a miracle. It is true, every word of it. I know it because I get similar letters almost every day from people who have used my ointment for old sores, eczema and piles."

"Is it any wonder I am happy?"

"I was an untold sufferer from an old running sore and ulcer. I had tried almost everything without relief from pain. A friend told me of your wonderful ointment and the next box took away the pain that did not leave me before in years, and after using just nine dollars' worth of ointment I am cured. The ulcer was inches by 6 1/2 inches, is all healed and I can walk. Never, never will I forget Peterson's again."

"You may use this to recommend your ointment if you wish. I cannot say enough to praise it." Yours truly, Mrs. Albert Smith, Lyndon, N. Y."

resolution introduced in the house by Representative Wilhoit, of Warren. It had been stated in correspondence from Governor Walker and other sources that the chairman of the highway board had urged the 22 counties which have recently issued county bonds for state road building, to do so on the promise that the state department would use federal and state aid money to match funds on a "pay-as-you-go" basis.

Views of Highway Officials Differ

ly spend on the roads of the state. While the county board of the highway board, in a letter to the governor, written last December, Mr. Phillips expressed the view that it was not the province of the highway board to advise the legislature as to raising highway building funds. He said that he felt it was the duty of the legislature to raise the money and the sole duty of the highway board was to expend it as wisely as possible. He said that if the legislature decided to issue bonds, he would accept their will and the will of the people who authorized the bond issue, and his money as best he could on the roads of the state.

Position of Bennett.

Stanley S. Bennett, of Quitman, the third member of the board to speak, was entirely opposed to bonds, but admitted that he would take no longer to pave the state highways on the "pay-as-you-go" plan. He estimated that under the plan recommended in Chairman Holder's letter, it would probably take 20 years to complete the paving of the state system, and said he knew the bond plan would achieve that result much more quickly. However, he said his life training had made him personally opposed to going into debt, and said he had found it was better "to go without anything you need rather than buy it on credit."

W. R. Neel, state highway engineer, who also spoke before the committee, was an outright advocate of a state bond issue of $700,000. He cited figures prepared by the department to show that a system of 4,600 miles of the finest grade concrete-surfaced roads, linking every county through the state and providing ample through highways, facilities in all directions across the state, could be built on the proceeds of a $700,000 bond issue, plus the surplus revenue from gasoline and motor vehicle taxes. He also showed that this bond issue would be retired entirely from this source of revenue; that it would be built in seven years and the bonds retired in 20 years; and that after the first seven years of construction, there would be at least $8,000,000 a year above the amortizing needs to expend on further construction of roads in the state.

Mr. Neel also showed that the roads proposed would be a net gain to the state. He stated that, if the legislature would provide proper restrictions on the amount of load trucks could carry, these roads would hold their own value for at least 50 years and cited a road in Michigan, the oldest of this type in the country, built in 1906, and still as good as ever.

Ask For More Money.

All three members of the highway board insisted on the 20 per cent increase in gasoline taxes involved in the "pay-as-you-go" program and also that the department from the half-cent inspection fee which now goes to the general treasury be turned over for road construction. Thus their plan, while delaying completion of the state hard-surfaced road system, according to Mr. Bennett, would not only levy an additional tax of $1,200,000 or more on automobile owners of the state, but would also withdraw over $500,000 from the state treasury, now used to meet current expenses of the state.

The plan of the board is also predicated on a continuance of county bond issues, based on the ad valorem tax values of the different counties. Two of the members, Mr. Phillips and Mr. Bennett, stated that they did not favor building roads in any county which was not willing to cooperate to some extent at least, by matching state and federal funds.

Neither commissioner, however, had any suggestion as to how counties which could not cooperate would have their highways paved, nor how trunk highways through the state could be linked together through these weak county gaps.

Suggests Sliding Scale.

Instead, the only reply to questions on this point was that they did not believe there was any county in the state which could not cooperate to some extent. Mr. Phillips suggested that a sliding scale of cooperation, allowing the weakest counties to contribute 10 per cent of the cost of the project, up to 50 per cent for the strongest counties, might be adopted.

Representative Smith, of Grady, questioning Commissioner Bennett, brought out that he did not expect to pave the entire state system in less than 20 years under the "pay-as-you-go" plan. Mr. Smith asked: "How about my county, Grady?" Chairman Holder interrupted to state that the Grady county project had been approved for 1926 and Mr. Smith reported that "Grady county has had a project for several years, but that's all. We're beginning to want to see a few roads."

It was brought out in questions asked by various members of the committee that all three members of the board approve the plan of having counties issue bonds, though they do not approve the state doing the same thing. Likewise they approved the county unit plan of building state highways, leaving roads of state in the present patchwork state, with a stretch of here and there, and a stretch of there and there, until

LARGE FAMILIES MEAN LARGER EXPENDITURES

The mother of a large family must be a good business woman. The more there are in the family the more food and wearing apparel she must buy. Furniture, rugs, linen, etc., wear out faster. There are more drugs to be purchased—in short, she is just a busy little purchasing agent, with a long list of necessities to purchase every day.

In many households there is just so much money every week to cover all these expenditures, and that means close buying and careful economy. But, inasmuch as The Constitution goes into over 32,000 homes in Atlanta and suburbs every morning, the task of making the day's purchases is simplified.

The wise and economical wife and mother reads every advertisement in the morning paper carefully, checking her list of necessities as she notes the prices quoted in the advertisements in The Constitution. They are the last prices for that business day—no use to shop about from store to store, tiring herself unnecessarily and wasting valuable time.

Advertising in The Constitution pays the Advertiser and saves the Buyer.

some indefinite date when current revenue will have amounted to enough to complete the paved road system. Mr. Phillips said he approved of bonds issued by counties for paying state roads within their borders, to be paid off by the 1-cent gasoline tax which now goes to the individual counties. He was asked if, on the other hand, the state should "pay-as-it-went," the counties should not do likewise and only pave short stretches of road that their annual gas tax allowance permitted. He did not agree to this.

Would Rob Counties.

Representative Mann, of Glynn, pointed out that the 1-cent gas tax was allocated to the counties for paying their own roads, and that by setting this aside to pay for bonds expended on state roads, they were robbing their county treasuries of money which would go to their own roads. Mr. Phillips' reply to this was that the counties had kept up their county roads out of ad valorem taxes before the gas tax money was given them, and they could continue to do so.

Chairman Holder stressed the fact that the board members had not expressed opinion on the plan for paving the state roads voluntarily, but had done so after the governor requested their cooperation in solving the state road problem after he had announced he would call the special session of the legislature. He said his position was still the same as when he wrote the letter expressing the board's views to the governor in December.

Deducts for Maintenance.

This is the letter urging the increase in gasoline tax and other sources of revenue, including federal aid and county bonds, to bring an estimated total of $12,000,000 annually by 1927. The 1925 revenue, he estimated on the same basis as $2,000,000 less than this sum. The chairman deducted from these gross figures approximately $2,000,000 for overhead in the department and maintenance of roads.

However, Engineer Neel, in his statement, brought out that the department is not maintaining roads now. He said it was merely repairing them after they had been damaged and said to maintain them in the condition they had been when taken over, would cost from $300 to $500 per mile.

Engineer Neel said that roads were not built because they were not built of sufficient strength for the traffic to begin with, and said that was the trouble with Georgia today.

"We are stretching what money we have over too much mileage," he said, "with the result that cheap roads wear away faster than we can replace them."

He showed how paved highways, with proper restrictions as to truck load, would last indefinitely.

Denies Failure Charge.

Chairman Holder denied charges that the present system had been "a miserable failure," stating that the board had only had state funds since 1924 and has not had time to demonstrate what could be done.

It was clearly shown by the replies of all three members that they do not propose to pave any roads in counties which are not prepared to bear a proportionate share of the cost. Chairman Holder said this county could be met in any one of three ways, either by issuing bonds, by allocating the county's share of gasoline to the state for the department, or by furnishing convict labor. He said he had never been asked to build a project in any county which was not prepared to do its share.

Asked how long it would take to complete the state system in hard-surfacing under the present system, Chairman Holder said he could not say because there was no knowing how much additional mileage future legislatures would add to the state system. He said he did not promise any definite matching of county funds, but always with the proviso "as funds become available."

Chairman Holder argued that the state could not spend over ten or twelve million a year on its roads without disrupting economic and labor conditions in the state. Asked if he thought Atlanta disrupted these conditions by spending eight millions on construction in one year, he said that was a different proposition.

Vague on Repayment.

Chairman Holder said he could give no idea as to when he could begin reimbursing counties which have issued bonds for state road paving, saying that this would not be until the system was complete. He admitted that from $12,000,000 to $15,000,000 in county money has now been issued and awaits state and federal matching, but avoided a direct answer as to whether roads in these counties would be unpaved in preference to roads in other unpaved counties.

Both Commissioners Phillips and Bennett answered the question as to paving in the 60 weak counties of the state which could not bond themselves, by saying they believed in "helping those who help themselves." They did not believe in the state paving roads in counties which were not willing to cooperate.

Asked as to whether he thought it fair for automobile owners of a county to pay their gasoline and motor vehicle taxes without getting any roads in their county, Commissioner Bennett said that all roads would be paved "eventually—maybe in 20 years."

Letter of Slaton.

Stating he was not advocating city bonds and has taken no active part in the movement, former Governor John M. Slaton has written a letter to The Constitution asking that his position be explained. He contends that the issuance of local bonds has no connection with state bond questions.

The letter follows: "Editor Constitution: Your editorial in The Constitution of March 9 refers to me personally in good where rapid and unwise construction was attempted, the labor conditions and cost of operation were so deranged that contractors went into bankruptcy and the defective roads must be rebuilt.

Refers to Farmers.

"Your editor, Mr. Howell, spoke at the Rotary club in Atlanta March 2, and said the representatives of cities favor bonds while among rural legislators would be found the greatest opposition. Permit me to say that if this is so, as a resident of a city county, I am grateful to our country friends. The farmers have saved the state before and can do it again. I should think the farm... know what will benefit their lands the most, and would hardly desire advice on this line from city friends who have good streets and use the country roads largely for pleasure in riding.

"But the farmers know that this issue will fall inevitably on land-on visible property. If not, why not specify in the bonds that only gasoline and automobile receipts shall stand back of them?"

"Viri" has a road program of "pay-as-you-go," newly started, and the governor telegraphs it is satisfactory. Her bitter experience on bonds would be found the greatest opposition. Permit me to say that if this is so, as a resident of a city county, I am grateful to our country friends. The farmers have saved the state before and can do it again. I should think the farm... know what will benefit their lands the most, and would hardly desire advice on this line from city friends who have good streets and use the country roads largely for pleasure in riding.

"But the farmers know that this issue will fall inevitably on land-on visible property. If not, why not specify in the bonds that only gasoline and automobile receipts shall stand back of them?"

Howell, who knew the history of state bonds, was on the committee to build the state capitol. It was done on the "pay-as-you-go" plan, and $18 was left in the treasury, a bright and glorious lesson which I hope future generations will follow.

Tells of City Bonds.

"Reverting a moment to the city bonds, which I think are irrelevant for reasons given, there is one lesson to be derived from them.

"Four years ago they urged bonds on the people of Atlanta as an alternative against increase of the tax rate. We voted the bonds, and they increased the assessments by millions, and the tax rate also—find yet people had not thought it possible.

"The old farmer knows it is not progress to get into debt, and florid speech cannot convince him. I hope and believe citizens of Georgia, whether from town or country, will think the same way.

Amateurs Organize 2 Baseball Leagues; Many Teams To Join

Sunday Schools Hold Enthusiastic Meeting—City League Revived Under Trammell Scott.

BY M. D. GLEASON

Much enthusiasm was manifested at the first meeting of the Class A Sunday School league last night at the chamber of commerce, several of the strongest Sunday school teams of Atlanta being represented.

H. A. Voorhis, southern manager of A. G. Spalding, acted as temporary presiding officer, and stated the object of the meeting was to organize an eight-club league among the Sunday schools of Atlanta and vicinity that would be capable of boosting interest in the game.

It was the consensus of opinion of all present that all players playing in this league must be bona fide members of the Sunday school they represent and attend at least two Sunday school meetings each month.

It was pointed out at this meeting that Atlanta was the best city in the world to start renewed activities in amateur baseball, as the climate here permitted the playing of baseball several weeks earlier than cities less favored.

While there were enough teams represented to form this Class A. Sunday School league last night, in the spirit of fairness it was voted by all present to postpone the final organization and naming of this league until next Thursday night. The next meeting will be held at the Spalding store, 74 North Broad street.

The following Sunday schools were represented at last night's meeting: North Avenue Christian church, Woodward Avenue Baptist, Locust Grove Baptist, Excelsior Class Calvary Presbyterian, Gordon Street Presbyterian, Pryor Street Presbyterian, Howell Station Baptist, Lakewood Heights Baptist, Boehman class and Orchard Knob Baptist.

Skinny, Scrawny, Underweight Men and Women Quickly Gain Needed Weight The New Modern Way Gain Strength Also—and Hollows in Neck and Cheeks Fill Out in Just a Few Weeks.

YOUR GREAT CHANCE.

Tens of thousands of thin, run-down men—yes, and women, too—are getting discouraged—are giving up all hope of ever being able to take on flesh and look healthy and strong.

All such people can stop worrying and start to smile and enjoy life right now for M. C. O. Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets which any druggist will tell you all about, is putting flesh on hosts of skinny folks every day.

One woman, tired, weak and discouraged, put on 15 pounds in five weeks and now feels fine.

We all know that Cod Liver Oil is full of vitalizing flesh producing vitamins, but many people can't take it because of its horrible smell and fishy taste and because it often upsets the stomach.

McCo's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets are as easy to take as candy and if any thin person don't gain at least 5 pounds in 30 days your druggist is authorized to give you your money back—and only 60 cents for 60 tablets. Ask Jacobs' Pharmacal Co., or any druggist.

But be sure to get McCo's, the original and genuine, and bear in mind that for thin, sickly kids they are wonderful—a very sickly child—age 9—gained 12 pounds in 7 months. (adv.)

Miss Wills Wins In Easy Matches

Nice, March 10.—Apparently untroubled by her recent touch of grippe, Helen Wills breezed through three matches in the Nice tennis tournament Wednesday, winning them all with ease.

Miss Wills defeated Miss Shirley, of England, in straight love sets, and followed this up by a victory over Miss Maynard, another English player, 6-0, 6-1.

Partnered with Charles Kingsley in the mixed doubles, the American women's champion defeated Mr. and Mrs. DeBruyn Kops, of Holland, 6-1, 6-0.

RAWLINGS LEAGUE IS REORGANIZED.

The Rawlings league of 1925 was reorganized Wednesday night under the name of the City league, and preliminary plans for a complete schedule were made. All teams playing in the Rawlings league last year will be back except one, leaving an opening for some fast team representing an Atlanta industry.

The meeting, which was presided over by Trammell Scott, was held at Perrins, and representatives of practically all of the city's best teams were on deck.

Addition to the league of the Southeastern Express company nine, last year's city champions, is certain to make the race more complicated.

Teams wishing to fill the vacant place in the league are asked to apply to Mr. Scott, at Perrins, 60 North Broad street, or to H. A. Manning, at the Atlanta Paper company.

BATTING EYES NEED NOT BE SHARP --- COBB

Baltimore, Md., March 10.—(AP)—A good "batting eye" depends not entirely on good vision, says Ty Cobb, recovering in Johns Hopkins hospital from an operation for the removal of an ocular growth.

"Don't put too much stress upon the eyesight when speaking of hitting," the Detroit American league manager warns. "I remember one afternoon in New York I had been having trouble with my left eye and was doubtful about getting into the game. I couldn't see a thing out of the eye. Finally I decided to play—and I made four hits.

"No, it isn't all vision. You must have a free and easy position at the plate. You must walk into the ball. You must have confidence. You must tighten up at the impact of the bat with the ball.

"Hornby and other batters who have been hitting good for two or three years have an advantage over the pitchers. The fingers haven't the same confidence against such men as against other hitters, and often try to put too much on the ball. Often they lose their stuff altogether and the ball seems to come up as in batting practice."

Despite his declaration that his fame is not all due to keen eyes, examination at the Wilmer Eye Clinic of Johns Hopkins hospital showed the Georgia Peach to possess exceptional eyesight. Before the operation was performed he was able, in the chart test, to read two lines more than normal eyes are expected to read. The bandages are now off the Tiger manager's eyes, and it is expected he will be able to leave for his home in Augusta, Ga., and the training camp of his team within a week.

Mehlhorn and Smith Beat Diegel, Sarazen

Miami, Fla., March 10.—(AP)—Bill Mehlhorn and MacDuff Smith today defeated Leo Diegel and Gene Sarazen, 3 up and 2 to play, in the finals of the international four-ball golf tournament at the Miami Country club. They will divide a prize of $1,500.

Glenna Will Meet Miss Wall Today

Belleair Heights, Fla., March 10.—(AP)—Miss Bernice Wall, of Oshkosh, Wis., holder of the women's golf championship of that state, will meet Miss Glenna Collet, of Providence, national woman golf champion, in the upper half of the Belleair championship for women here tomorrow, while Miss Helen Payson, of Portland, Me., will meet Mrs. G. H. Stetson, of Philadelphia, in the lower half.

Miss Wall was winner over Miss Frances Hadfield, of Milwaukee, 2 and 1, and Miss Collet defeated Mrs. J. J. Robinson, of Atlanta, 7 and 6. Miss Payson defeated Mrs. Caleb Fox, of Philadelphia, 5 and 4, and Mrs. Stetson eliminated Miss Ruth Perry, of Philadelphia, 2 and 1.

Paroled Prisoner Columbus Rookie

Leavenworth, Kan., March 10.—(AP)—Paroled from the state penitentiary at Lansing, Arthur Witchey, 24, of Topeka, left today for Quitman, Ga., where he will have a tryout with the Columbus baseball team of the American association.

Witchey, a diminutive catcher on the prison team since 1919, when he was convicted for second degree burglary, was spotted at a prison ball game by Dan Shay, Columbus scout, according to John T. Glynn, a detective, to whom Witchey was paroled.

Columbia U. Clinches Eastern Basket Title

New York, March 10.—(AP)—Columbia clinched the championship in the Eastern Collegiate Basketball league here tonight by defeating Princeton, 46 to 27.

Kid Kaplan Matched With Tommy Herman

Baltimore, Md., March 10.—Kid Kaplan, Tommy Herman, Chicago, in a 12-round bout here March 20. The title will not be at stake, both having agreed to come in over-weight.

FOREIGN STARS MAYSHOWHERE SAYS C. C. PYLE

Chicago, March 10.—(By the Associated Press).—Charles C. Pyle, whose exploitation of "Red" Grange netted that famous young ice man a fortune, intends to invade Europe in search of new athletic talent to entertain Americans. His plans may or may not include a scheme to bring Suzanne Lenglen, world's champion women tennis player, to America.

Pyle has engaged William Pickens, a press agent and one time manager of Barney Oldfield, as his representative. He will sail within 10 days.

The manager of Grange and the organizer of the new American Professional Football league said today he has an intention to professionalize any athlete brought to America, and only would consent to handle their affairs under the National A. A. U. ruling or the United States Lawn Tennis association and under their management. "I do not say that I plan to bring Mademoiselle Lenglen to this country," he said. "I do not want to make any money out of it. I am in the professional football business. If I do bring athletes to America the A. A. U. or other amateur organizations will need to handle the finances and assume athletic direction."

"I only hope to interest Mlle. Lenglen. That does not mean she is coming over. I may sit in my hotel room and wish that I had a drink, but that doesn't mean I am going to get one."

JAKE TRAILING HAGENLACHER AT 1000-MARK

Philadelphia, March 10.—(AP)—Jake Schaefer, of Chicago, rallying in defense of his world's 182 balk line billiard title, tonight reduced the lead of Eric Hagenlacher, German challenger, 114 points in the second block of their 1,500-point championship match. With the score standing 1,000 to 636 in favor of Hagenlacher, Schaefer was required to make 804 points tomorrow night before Hagenlacher gathers 500 in order to retain his crown.

In sharp contrast to the opening night's play, when Hagenlacher ran out his string of 500 points in five innings with a masterful display of stroking, both men played poorly tonight, the champion failing to take advantage of many opportunities during their four and a half hour stretch at the table. Twenty-two innings were required for the block, Hagenlacher having an advantage which Schaefer steadily was cutting down, by closing in an unfinished run of 87.

Hagenlacher, adding a string of 148 to the unfinished run of 150 with which he closed the first block last night, lapsed in his play immediately after establishing the best run of the match at 308.

Schaefer, however, was able to show only occasional flashes of the brilliant stroking he revealed two months ago against Edouard Horemans, of Belgium.

Spirits of 105 and 113 were his best runs of the night, while the German champion was able to pass the 50-point mark only three times. Schaefer led in the night's play 691 to 500.

California Stars Clash in Finals

Tampa, Fla., March 10.—Sweeping away their opposition in the semifinals Wednesday, Miss Elizabeth Ryan and Miss Mary K. Browne, California stars, will battle for the Dixie women's singles tennis championship on the Davis Island courts Thursday.

Miss Ryan defeated Mrs. Louise Raymond, of Hartsdale, N. Y., 6-3, 6-1, and Miss Browne won from Mrs. Hildegunde Taylor, of New York, 6-3, 6-2. Mrs. Raymond, earlier in the day, eliminated Lady Peggy Hutchinson, of London, 4-6, 6-1, 6-1.

In the doubles finals Thursday Miss Ryan and Mrs. Taylor will meet Miss Browne and Mrs. Raymond.

'Kid' May Handle Lookouts' Reins

Chattanooga, Tenn., March 10.—(AP)—President Strang Nickel, of the Chattanooga club of the Southern association, said tonight, in reply to rumors that "Kid" Elberfeld would manage the team this season, that no contract had yet been signed. He stated that negotiations were in process, and that he hoped terms could be arranged satisfactory to all concerned. Elberfeld formerly managed the Lookouts, and was popular among the fans. He is a native of Chattanooga.

Horween Is Named As Harvard Coach

Cambridge, Mass., March 10.—(AP)—The committee on regulation of athletic sports at Harvard tonight announced the appointment of Arnold Horween, 21, of Chicago, as head coach of Harvard football.

Since leaving Harvard, where he captained the Crimson's wartime football team, Horween's main coaching experience has been with the Chicago Bears, Red Grange's outfit, for which he has acted as strategy coach, backfield coach and scout.

Horween is thoroughly versed in Harvard football lore and the Haughton system, under which he was trained during his entire collegiate football career.

McNamara-Georgetti Lead in Bike Races

New York, March 10.—Reggie McNamara, veteran from Newark, N. J., and his youthful Italian partner, Franco Georgetti, at 10 o'clock tonight held the one-lap lead they had gained in the six-day bicycle race at Madison Square Garden during early today.

The Stockelrich-Gosens and Grimm-Winter races, while Walker-McCabe, Egg-Holton and Colura-Petri were two laps in arrears.

Bob Reagan Signs As Moccasin Mentor

Chattanooga, Tenn., March 10.—Announcement was made last night by Head Coach Frank Thomas, of the University of Chattanooga football team, that Bob Reagan, who has been assisting Coach Thomas in the Moccasin Spring practice for the last month, has signed a contract to serve next fall in the capacity of varsity line coach.

German Tank Star Breaks Old Marks

New York, March 10.—Erik Bademacher, German's invading breast stroke champion, and Walter Lauter and Harry Glancy, aquatic ace of the entire C. C. A. of Cincinnati, shattered several swimming records in the 75-foot pool of the New York Athletic club today.

LaGrange Alumnae To Honor Miss Andrews, Noted Botanist

Miss Frances Andrews, of Rome, Ga., will arrive next Tuesday to be the guest of Mrs. Clarence Johnson at her home on Collier road. Miss Andrews is a noted botanist and author of a number of books of fiction and botanical textbooks. She has the distinction of being the only southern woman invited to be a member of the Academy of Arts and Letters, Naples, Italy, the American branch located in Paris, France.

Miss Andrews is the oldest living graduate of LaGrange College for women, being 86 years of age, and is a native of Washington, Ga., Wilkes county. She is a representative of aristocratic and eminent southern families who have been influential and outstanding in the development of the south.

The Atlanta chapter of the LaGrange College alumnae will entertain at an elaborate tea Tuesday afternoon, March 16, at the home of Mrs. S. E. McConnell, 86 Springdale road, in honor of Miss Andrews, the occasion to assemble a large number of prominent out-of-town alumnae, state officers and local members.

Members who will be able to attend are requested to call Mrs. J. B. Bidley, chairman of arrangements.

Hapeville Club Plans Memorial Pageant.

A memorial service and planting of trees in the city park has been arranged by the garden committee of the Hapeville Woman's club, with Mrs. N. A. Anderson, chairman, on Friday, March 12, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The service will honor two beloved Hapeville boys, Henry F. Fulgham and Fred A. Simpson, who lost their lives in service during the great World war, and the late Dr. Samuel Hays, founder of Hapeville, and for whom the city was named. It will also be in memorial to Edward Winn, who lost his life recently in an automobile accident while performing his duty towards the city as assistant to chief of police. Judge John D. Humphries will be speaker and the public is cordially invited.

Hamilton, or members of their committees and immediately upon notification the rummage will be called for.

Junior Music Club Contests Announced.

Miss Ruth Gaines, director of the Atlanta Junior Music club, has arranged for the preliminary contests of the club to begin Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, Edico hall, at which time a winner of each contest will be selected to represent the club in the state convention contests to be held in Columbus, Ga., March 26-27.

Beginning Saturday morning at 10 o'clock the violin contests will be held. In the afternoon, beginning at 3 o'clock, the piano contests will take place. The voice contests will not be held until Monday afternoon, March 15, at 3 o'clock, Edico hall.

Members of the club who are planning to enter these contests are hereby notified to be present promptly at the hour specified, or else they will be automatically eliminated from the try-out. For any information concerning this announcement, call Miss Ruth Gaines, director, who will be glad to have you call her office at Cable Piano company, telephone Walnut 1041.

Seminary Seniors Elected Members Of 'Round Table'

In choosing Misses Florence Eckford, Catherine Howell, Sophie Street, Jane Zuber, Augusta Porter and Lena Knox, seniors at Washington seminary, as members of the "Round Table," an honorary society, they were accorded a highly coveted privilege.

Five or six girls out of the senior class are chosen each year to be members of the "Round Table," by the seniors of the previous year, who are generally off at college. Twenty names are submitted by the faculty of Washington seminary to this group of graduates, and those receiving the largest number of votes are elected as members of this honorary organization.

The honor of being selected one of this group, always falls to representative girls in the senior class, executive heads, and girls who have proven themselves worthy of such an honor.

Many Delicacies At Municipal Market.

Fresh spring vegetables are appearing daily on the farmers' stalls at the Municipal market. Strawberries, mushrooms, endives and other delicacies can be found at the market cheaper and fresher than elsewhere.

Mrs. John Akin, at stall 88, makes the most delicious bread and bakes it right before you. Churches and clubs are finding the market a splendid place to hold rummage and cake sales. The market continues as popular as Saturdays for these sales.

The market committee of the Atlanta Woman's club will be at the market on Saturday morning and will be glad to furnish any information in regard to the market.

Interesting Visitors Given Luncheon.

Three interesting visitors to Atlanta, Mrs. J. Fairman Preston, of Korea; Mrs. Avison, of Korea; and Mrs. John K. Davis, of Nanking, China, were honor guests at an informal luncheon given by Mrs. M. A. Land and Miss Jeanie Klutz Tuesday at the Capital City club.

Mrs. Avison and Mrs. Davis are guests of Mrs. Preston at her home in Decatur, where, with her husband, Rev. J. Fairman Preston, missionary to Korea, and their attractive children, she is spending a year.

Best Way to Loosen Stubborn Cough

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easily and cheaply made.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, croup, throat tickle, bronchial asthma, or winter coughs.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way you get a full pint—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste. Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., St. Wayne, Ind.

Girl Scouts Will Present Artistic Program Tomorrow Depicting "Spirit of Youth"

BY BEVERLY BURGESS.
"Do a good turn daily." The whole gospel of the lowly Nazarene is here comprised in five words. And such is the slogan of that wonderful organization which we know as Girl Scouts.

Did you ever stop to think what the scout movement in America means to you and to me, regardless of having or not any personal scout affiliation in our immediate families?

Did you ever try to compute what the clear vision of unmarred, resilient youth, organized for training in the very highest ideals and noblest traditions, will mean to the world tomorrow, in which, if not you, your beloved child, will have to live, move and have his being? There is a clarion call across the centuries to come to life in its purest, best standards.

A world made fit—fitter for you and yours! Service, perhaps, more than any other, is the symbol of the present epoch's spirit. "Do a good turn daily" is the slogan by no accident. Every force in life has its reason for being. And these origins have their beginnings back under the surface of things years before.

The birth of the beginning of the scout movement began when and where I cannot tell you, but today it is a vital force in the civilization of the world and its uplift, and constructive citizenship of tomorrow.

The Girl Scouts' motto is "Be prepared." Such expresses their attitude of being informed, alert, efficient and ready for all physical, spiritual and patriotic undertakings.

"And to these," says Mrs. Frank Holland, the inspiration and life of the Atlanta chapter, "we are adding the thought and effort at development of beautiful, Christian character."

Is there any wonder that when you see these precious little khaki-clad figures rendering valuable service, where life or property can be cared for, that you feel within you an overpowering response to that which is noblest and best in life?

Tomorrow night at the auditorium the Girl Scouts of Atlanta are going to be presented in a beautiful pageant, showing the evolution of the spirit of youth from the days of old Greece through the different historical periods to the present-day girl scout.

The Potter-Spiker players are going to assist and a beautiful and artistic production will this be.

March Wind Branks.

That March days are with us is undeniable, certainly! More is to be woe! Compensation are to be found in most of life's untoward exigencies—provided one is equipped with that most important element in existence—a keen sense of humor!

An amusing thing was witnessed a few afternoons ago in front of the Carnegie library—a very refined looking lady, with her arms all full of the "wisdom of ages," emerged from this institution of education about three in the afternoon. A typical blue stocking was she, with all of the convention-bound earmarks thereof. Laugh it off—certainly she could not have done that under any circumstance of confusing parts. Just as she gained the street the March gust made a swirl at her chapeau and, with the most perfectly lady-like apology, lifted said piece of feminine apparel as gently as a May breeze might have done and carried it a half block away, depositing same in the arms of an upright member of the direct center of the tallest, broadest limousine that was ever manufactured. And there it stuck as if glued to the top of the car. No gust seemed able to loosen it from its moorings, and neither could human arms reach it!

Such mortification and chagrin did this nice maiden lady—evidently one—give evidence of! From every vantage point the hat was being angled for as the traffic signs moved us on. And we were made to feel that even a March wind could be turned to account—by the other fellow!

Grand Opera Concern.

Weren't you pleased, really, to see that our ambitious friends amongst the colored population were organizing to encourage the development and appreciation of the better things of life? We liked to read about their trying to organize what they are pleased to call a "grand opera concern." This is for the purpose of bringing the best singers and encouraging artistic development of latent talent.

And have you ever been to the auditorium in your life to enjoy some rare treat in musical or artistic circles that you were not impressed by the number of colored people in the gallery? Who ever listened to the old negro mammas in their crooning and the spirituals of their race that one was not made to realize that here are possibilities and appreciation.

It really is splendid to know that the leaders amongst these colored people should have a sufficient appreciation of the beautiful and uplifting to try to organize for development along a line which will help them to some degree to a higher, better plane of existence.

Recuperating at Home.

The many friends of Mrs. Louis Morrison are glad to know that after a tonsil operation she is again at home and will soon be again Mrs. Morrison was greatly missed from all social activities during her stay at the hospital.

FarmDepartment Is Investigating Cotton Industry

Fort Worth, Texas, March 10.—The first and most complete investigation ever made into the cotton industry and the cotton markets is under way by the department of agriculture, according to Secretary of Agriculture J. H. Clegg.

"The whole situation warrants an investigation from the grower to the textile mill," the secretary said on his arrival here.

Jardine's statements concerning the cotton industry were made with reference to the withdrawal of the Clayton-Anderson company from the Houston cotton exchange. The secretary said that three department of agriculture agents were now in Dallas, Texas, investigating the cotton industry.

The cotton investigation, Jardine asserted, will reach from New York to New Orleans and include Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas. He said the investigation would not only be under way unless there had been strong indication that it was justified.

SALE OF FLORIDA LAND AUTHORIZED BY FEDERAL BODY

Washington, March 10.—(AP)—The sale, at auction, of two parcels of Florida land, one near Jacksonville and the other near Miami, was announced by the interior department today.

The Jacksonville tract comprises 841 acres near the mouth of the St. Johns river. It is appraised at $6,371 and will be sold to the highest bidder at not less than the appraised value at the Chamber of Commerce building in Jacksonville, March 16.

The Miami parcel covers an area of 6.84 acres on the ocean side of Key Biscayne and is appraised at $6,840. It will be sold at the city hall courtroom March 19 for not less than the appraised value. Temporary withdrawal of other tracts located on Lake Dora and another small lake in Lake county is announced today by the interior department. The reason for the withdrawal is that new surveys of the land may be made.

GIRL SCOUTS FINISH WORK FOR PAGEANT, "VISION OF YOUTH"

Finishing touches were being given Wednesday by Atlanta Girl Scouts to their pageant, "The Vision of Youth," which will be presented at 8 o'clock Friday night, at the city auditorium.

Although the development of pageantry is gaining impetus throughout the country, this is said to be one of the first attempts of its kind in this city, and the first pageant on a large scale ever to be produced by Atlanta's younger social set.

Arrangements are under way to take motion pictures of the pageant at a dress rehearsal Thursday afternoon at the auditorium, according to an announcement from Scout headquarters.

TWO CHILDREN BURNED IN FIRE

Winston-Salem, N. C., March 10.—(AP)—Two children of Suffer McMillan, Stokes county farmer, were burned to death when fire destroyed an outbuilding near their home today, according to advices received here from Mount Airy tonight.

The children are said to have been playing with matches in a chicken house when it caught fire.

Noted Swiss Poet To Give Lecture To French Alliance

A delightful occasion awaits the members of L'Alliance Francaise and their friends in the coming to the city of Monsieur B. Benjamin Valaton, a Swiss poet of note, when he lectures here on April 1 on the subject, "The Mountaineers of the French High Alps." Full details as to place and hour will appear in the press later.

At the last meeting of L'Alliance President Lordinas announced that the Federation of French Alliances, of which the Atlanta alliance is a branch, will hold its annual convention in New York city on April 10-11. Any members who can attend these sessions, including the banquet at Hotel Plaza, where the meetings will all be held, can be appointed as delegates by application to President Lordinas and defraying their own expenses. The Alliance of Atlanta has now three life members of the general federation, Charles Lordinas, Mrs. H. M. Atkinson and Mrs. J. M. Slaton.

Today's program at 3:30 o'clock in the Pine room of Hotel Ansley will consist of "Un Evangile," by Francois Coppes, rendered by Mademoiselle Martine Slaton; also an account of her trip "un voyage dans l'Inde." Those members privileged last fall to hear the songs by the Girls' High school rendered in French, will be glad to know that L'Alliance will again be favored with a group of songs by these pupils. Madame Laure Lenoir will read a short story from Jules Lemaitre entitled "La Cloche." In the absence of President Charles Lordinas, the first vice president, Mrs. J. M. Slaton, will preside.

Purim Ball Will Be Held Monday, March 15.

The annual purim ball this year will be one of Atlanta's most interesting events of this season. It will take place Monday, March 15, at the auditorium-annex. The size of this spacious hall makes it possible to extend a cordial invitation to the public at large.

The different committees have labored loyally to make this ball a stupendous success. The proceeds of the affair will go towards the benefit of the United Hebrew Schools of Atlanta.

The officers of the purim ball committee include Gus Berman, chairman; Jake Jacobs, first vice chairman; H. M. Mendel, second vice chairman; Joe Goldberg, treasurer; M. Scheinbaum, secretary; Miss R. Dorlan, assistant secretary.

And Dorlan, chairman: Joseph Goldberg, vice chairman; and S. Goldstein compose the ticket committee.

In charge of the program will be Mrs. Molly Hirsch, chairman; Mrs. Jake Berman, vice chairman; Mrs. Gus Berman, Mrs. Sadie Sheur, Mrs. Mamie Reisman, Mrs. J. Levine, Mrs. I. J. Paradise, Mrs. M. Rich.

The general arrangements committee includes M. Lichtenstein, chairman; I. J. Paradise, vice chairman; J. Jacobs.

Social Workers Club To Meet.

The Social Workers' club will hold its meeting March 16, with a luncheon at Peacock's cafe at 12:30 o'clock. An interesting program will be given and all members are invited to be present.

Gives Advice to Expectant Mothers

"I ADVISE all expectant mothers to use Mother's Friend," writes Mrs. Wesley Miller, Hudson, Mich. "I have had nine children. With my first three I suffered for 24 hours. Beginning with the fourth I used Mother's Friend and was sick only 15 minutes. Since then I have had five and was only sick about 10 minutes with each."

Mother's Friend is the formula of an eminent physician and has been a positive blessing to thousands of expectant mothers for over three generations. Used daily, externally, it soothes the nerves and muscles as month follows month. Finally it makes childbirth.

The mothers who praise Mother's Friend the most are those who did not use it with their first baby but through its use with the second, were able to realize its almost unbelievable results.

Just on Mother's Friend—the same as used by our mothers and grandmothers—don't wait until night and—meanwhile write Bradfield Regulator Co., Dept. 24, Atlanta, Ga., for free booklet "Motherhood and the Coming Baby" (sent in plain envelope). It tells how Mother's Friend can help you during expectancy and at childbirth. This booklet also tells you many other things you want to know. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all druggists—everywhere.

Mrs. Parry Directs Girl Scout Pageant.

The idea motivating "The Vision of Youth," the pageant which will be presented by the Atlanta Girl Scouts at 8 o'clock Friday evening, March 12, at the auditorium, was originated by Mrs. Harvey Parry, who has been for 3 years the director of the local scouting organization for girls.

"I hope that all of the troops will gain a keener interest in dramatics as a result of the pageant, which is their first ambitious venture in the field of such an art, and I am confident that the experience they have gained through work on the presentation to be given publicly Friday evening will enrich their future programs by the use of dramatics," Mrs. Parry said.

Mrs. Parry sponsors a small and exclusive camp of her own each year from July 2 to August 27. "Camp Parry-dise" is located in the mountains of Highlands, N. C., and is open to 25 girls only each season. This limitation in numbers assures each girl individual attention. Mrs. Parry carries out in her programs at "Parry-dise" her ideas concerning dramatics, and there the girls are given the opportunity to act out a beautiful mountain lake with the top of a mountain as their stage and all the nature world for their audience.

FLORIDA TELEPHONE RATE MEET CALLED

Tallahassee, Fla., March 10.—(AP)—Five hearings into applications for a revision and increase in telephone rates by the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph company have been called by the Florida Railroad commission.

The hearings will be held at Vero Beach, March 22; Stuart, March 23; Lake Worth and Delray, March 24; and Fort Lauderdale, March 25, all of which would be affected by the proposed revision.

"Tol'able David" Will Be Seen At Saturday Matinee

Proud of the fact that they have been chosen to form the leading part in the prolog at the Saturday morning matinee this week at the Howard is the young band of musicians forming the orchestra for the Decatur Junior High school. Under the leadership of Mrs. Reynolds Clark, assisted by Miss Dora Hayden, these boys and girls are doing splendid work.

"Tol'able David," which features Richard Barthelmess, is the big film for Saturday. Joseph Hargessheimer's wonderful story of mother love and boy love, framed in the setting of the backwoods of the Virginia mountains, presents a vivid picture of the mountaineer's life. The transition of the young boy, who was only "tol'able," into the defender of all he holds dear presents the opportunity for a strong story.

Women's Bible Class Honors Teacher.

The Young Women's Bible class of the Central Presbyterian church held its regular monthly executive meeting Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the church.

This was the last meeting with the present officers. Very little business was transacted as the meeting was the nature of a party in honor of Marion M. Jackson, teacher of the class, whose birthday is March 10. Mrs. T. D. Thompson, president, presided.

Mrs. Lawrence Is Hostess To Club.

Mrs. C. E. Lawrence entertained the members of her club at her home, 194 Feld avenue, Tuesday at a spend-the-day party.

The house was beautifully decorated in spring flowers. Luncheon was served at 1:30 o'clock.

Mrs. J. H. Ramsaur's name was presented to the club as a new member and voted on unanimously.

Those present were Mrs. J. E. Alexander, Mrs. J. C. Asher, Mrs. A. G. Ayers, Mrs. Dial, Mrs. W. Fleetwood, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Hewitt, Mrs. K. P. McClung, Mrs. J. C. Peary, Mrs. O. D. Posey, Mrs. W. F. Smith, Mrs. W. O. Slate, Mrs. R. B. Sullivan, Mrs. T. D. Thompson, Mr. W. A. Upchurch, Mrs. F. L. Zimmerman, Mrs. Ogg, Mrs. Metcalf and Mrs. C. E. Lawrence.

Altar Society Will Serve Luncheon.

The ladies of the Immaculate Conception Altar society will serve lunches in the basement of the church, corner Central avenue and East Hunter street, before and after the 12:15 o'clock services on Wednesday and Friday.

Wash Face?—Yes But mind what sort of soap you use

Take care that you use only such soap as is made solely to protect the complexion, then always according to this simple rule.

FOREMOST skin authorities urge washing the face regularly as essential to natural complexion clearness. But all urge greatest care in selecting the kind of soap one uses.

Risking a precious complexion to an unproved soap is a folly. The only kind of soap to use on your face is a soap made solely to safeguard the complexion. Launder and cleanse with any soap you wish. But when beauty is at stake, take care.

The accepted skin care of today starts largely with Palmolive, a soap made of rare cosmetic oils, a soap made for one purpose only—to be used freely and lavishly on the skin.

The rule in skin care Experts urge is this

Wash your face gently with Palmolive Soap, massaging it softly into the skin. Rinse thoroughly, first with warm water, then with cold. If your skin is inclined to be dry, apply a touch of good cold cream—that is all.

Do this regularly, and particularly in the evening. Use powder and rouge, if you wish. But never leave them on over night. They clog the

Get real Palmolive

Do not use ordinary soaps in the treatment given above. Do not think any green soap, or represented as of palm and olive oils, is the same as Palmolive.

It costs but 10c the cake!—so little that millions let it do for their bodies what it does for their faces. Obtain Palmolive today. Then note what an amazing difference one week makes. The Palmolive Company (Del. Corp.), Chicago, Illinois.

Seminary Alumnae Will Dedicate Memorial Library

The Washington Seminary alumnae will dedicate the memorial library at the seminary on the morning of March 31, at 10 o'clock. The library has been established by the alumnae in memory of the late Mrs. Alice Chandler Matthews, beloved owner and teacher of this well-known girls' school. The library will be accepted by Llewellyn D. Scott, school principal, in behalf of the seminary. Mrs. Lawley Coleman, president of the alumnae, and Mrs. Hal Hentz, past president, are arranging an interesting and appropriate program which will be announced later.

The entire alumnae and friends of the school are cordially invited to attend the exercises.

'LOAN SHARK' PROBE LAUNCHED BY COUNCIL

The opening gun in what is termed a war to force so-called loan sharks, and salary assignment purchasers to comply with all city ordinances was fired Wednesday afternoon before the tax committee of council when alleged victims of such operators presented a petition seeking redress by having the committee take such action as "is necessary to enforce laws governing such business."

The committee instructed City Clerk Walter C. Taylor to take necessary steps to obtain a list of loan firms when license applications are filed the beginning of April. This action was taken following presentation of the case by the small loan and investment committee of the Legal Aid society, and representatives of several complainants who appeared before the committee.

Principal complaints were that "some of the operators failed to obtain licenses, to post the $500 bond required by city ordinance, to disclose the identity of ownership of such business, to keep books for public inspection or to issue a statement as to the time, amount and period involved in transactions."

A list of about 20 persons and firms charged with failure to comply with the law was submitted to the committee.

In requesting Mr. Taylor to prepare blanks in order that all firms doing business as salary assignment or small loan concerns might be listed properly, the committee indicated that it will insist on rigid enforcement of all provisions of the law governing operation of such companies.

FORMER ATLANTA MAN GETS HIGH BANK POST

George E. Nolan, formerly of Marietta and Atlanta, has been elected executive vice president of the Commercial Bank and Trust Company of Miami, one of the largest banks in that city, according to reports received Wednesday in Atlanta.

Mr. Nolan is widely known in Atlanta as well as in Georgia, and is one of the leading bankers of the southeast. He was at one time president of the Florida Bankers' association. Before forming this new connection he was vice president of the Miami Bank & Trust Co.

In accepting the position of executive vice president of the Commercial Bank & Trust Co., he will be associated with three former Atlantans: W. V. Crowley, president; W. W. Banks, chairman of the board of directors, and C. P. Cobb, vice president, all at one time having been connected with the Citizens and Southern Bank of Atlanta.

LAST RITES HELD FOR R. M. STRIPLIN, FAIR SECRETARY

Funeral services for R. M. Striplin, 48, secretary of the Southeastern fair since its organization in 1914, who died Monday morning, were held at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning from the First Methodist church. The Rev. S. T. Senter and the Rev. M. Ashby Jones officiated and interment was in West View cemetery.

Warden Snook Favors Vocational Training, Pay for Pen Inmates

Commenting on Federal Judge Samuel H. Sibley's charge to the grand jury recently, in which he urged vocational training in federal penitentiaries, Warden John W. Snook, of the Atlanta federal penitentiary, declared Wednesday that hundreds of inmates of the penitentiary leave their families destitute and urged progressive plans for more employment of inmates.

Employees in the duck mill last year were paid more than $75,000, while the mill showed a profit of $83,000. Plans for vocational training and employment of prisoners being promulgated by Warden Snook center around a yarn mill to manufacture yarn for use in the duck mill, it is learned.

The prison paper, "Good Words," in its present issue also urges more vocational training and employment of prisoners. At the present scale rates in the duck mill an employee can earn about $8 a month, it is said.

Gas Companies Must Show Cause Why Rates Cannot Be Revised

The Georgia public service commission Wednesday under a rule nisi required that gas companies of Columbus, Macon and Augusta appear before that body and show cause why the wholesale industrial gas rates now in effect in those three cities should not be revised.

It was stated by the vice chairman of the commission, Walter McDonald, that in those three cities there is a "two-part" rate—demand and service rate—which the commission desires to standardize.

It was emphatically stated that no complaint had been made, but that the hearings, which will be held on March 23, are for the purpose of standardization of the wholesale rates on gas in those three cities.

ORATORICAL PLAN GAINING INTEREST

Reports from the 12 district presidents show great interest in the international oratorical contest on the constitution and allied subjects which The Constitution is sponsoring in Georgia.

Every district will hold a contest in April to select district representatives to compete in Atlanta on May 7 for first prize in Georgia, $100, and the honor of representing Georgia in the contest at Kansas City.

The winner in Kansas City will go to Washington and will be given a two months' trip to Europe with all expenses paid. The seven national representatives will speak in the five great capitals of Europe. School principals report even greater interest than last year in the study of the constitution and in preparation of speeches.

Nearly all schools propose to hold contests before the student bodies to select the school representatives from among the large number entering the school contest.

Many of last year's contestants have entered the contest this year. Georgia expects to send a representative to Europe from among the several thousand now at work on their speeches.

SOON AFTER THE BATTLE OF ORISKANY, BENEDICT ARNOLD WAS ON HIS WAY WITH 2,000 MEN OF SCHUYLER'S ARMY TO RAISE THE SIEGE OF FORT STANWIX.

THE AMERICAN GARRISON, CHEERED BY THE RECENT VICTORY WAS STILL HOLDING OUT BRAVELY AGAINST ST. LEGER AND HIS REDCOATS.

AS HE NEARED THE FORT, ARNOLD DECIDED TO USE A TRICK TO DECEIVE THE BRITISH AS TO THE SIZE OF HIS FORCE.

CALLING BEFORE HIM TWO TORY LADS WHO HAD BEEN TAKEN PRISONERS, ARNOLD PROMISED TO FREE THEM IF ONE WOULD WARN THE BRITISH THAT A VAST AMERICAN ARMY WAS COMING TO ATTACK THEM.

AUGUST 22, 1777

THE RUSE SUCCEEDED PERFECTLY. — RUSHING INTO THE BRITISH CAMP, WITH HIS COAT TORN BY BULLETS, THE TORY BOY ANNOUNCED DREADFULLY THAT THE AMERICANS WERE COMING "AS MANY OF THEM AS THE LEAVES ON THE TREES."

AT THIS STARTLING NEWS THE TORIES AND INDIANS FLED IN A PANIC AND THE NEXT DAY ST. LEGER BEGAN HIS RETREAT TO CANADA.

AUGUST 22, 1777

FORT STANWIX WAS SAVED AND ARNOLD ENTERED AMID THE CHEERS OF THE GARRISON. WITH ST. LEGER DISPOSED OF, BURGOWNE ALONE WAS LEFT TO BE DEALT WITH.

MOTOR TAXES TOTAL $4,429,073 IN 1925

The income of the state highway department from gasoline and motor vehicle taxes in 1925 were $4,429,073, according to figures furnished by the state auditor Wednesday in response to a resolution passed by the house of representatives.

In response to the same resolution State Auditor Slate estimates the income of the highway department from these sources for 1926 as $8,000,000.

His estimate for this year is based upon the increase of the department's portion of the gasoline tax from 1 cent to 1 1/2 cents, which went into effect one month before the close of the fiscal year for 1925—and the normal percentage of increase in both gasoline consumption and motor vehicle fee receipts.

Slate points out, in concluding his letter, that motor vehicle fees in Georgia are lower than in some other states, and declares that the income from this source could be increased $850,000 per annum by raising the amount of the fees.

Asheville Business Men On Tour of Southeast Will Stop in Atlanta

Plans to entertain a party of several score business men of Asheville, N. C., who will arrive in Atlanta March 17, on a tour of the south, are being perfected by the Atlanta chamber of commerce.

The tour is being sponsored by the Asheville chamber of commerce and will be in charge of E. Roger Miller, formerly of Macon and now manager of the Asheville chamber.

SUN DIAL STOLEN

Part of Memorial to War Dead Is Missing.

Police were advised Wednesday by the city department heads that the sun dial on Fulton county's memorial to its war dead had been stolen during Tuesday night.

Until Tuesday the sun dial had formed a part of the county's memorial to its world war dead, at Pershing point, at the confluence of the Peachtree.

PLEA FOR NEW TRIAL DENIED JOHN HOWELL

Appeal for a new trial for John Howell, of Macon, was denied Wednesday by the state supreme court.

Howell was sentenced to electrocution for the slaying of Harry Green, deputy sheriff, whom he is alleged to have shot during an automobile chase through the streets of Macon.

The lower court will now have to meet the date for Howell's electrocution, the original date of death having passed while the appeal was pending.

Howell's only hope for life now rests in an appeal to the Georgia prison commission and the governor.

PLAY IS POSTPONED ACCOUNT ILLNESS

The musical play, "The Tantalizing Tangle," which was to have been presented by the Wesley memorial choir at the church tonight has been postponed indefinitely, due to the illness of a member.

ATLANTA DRUGGISTS WILL MEET TONIGHT

The regular quarterly membership meeting of the Atlanta Retail Druggists' association, affiliated with the Atlanta Retail Merchants' association, will be held Thursday night following a supper at 6:30 o'clock in assembly hall No. 2 of the chamber of commerce building.

WRITERS TO DISCUSS NEWS TOPICS TONIGHT

The Atlanta Writers' club will feature a round-table discussion of news as a source of literature at its dinner tonight in the Woman's club banquet hall at 7 o'clock.

An original playlet and several short manuscripts will be read in the club competition.

MASONIC CLUB HEARS COLONEL ROBERTSON

Colonel S. Robertson, of Greenville, S. C., spoke at the noon luncheon of Masonic club Wednesday at the Peacock cafe on "Masonry."

An Hawaiian musical program was given at the luncheon. Dr. Claude N. Hughes presided.

ONLY NINE JURORS CHOSEN IN 3 DAYS OF MARSHALL CASE

Philadelphia, March 10.—With three panels of talesmen exhausted, nine jurors had been chosen Wednesday at the end of the third day of the trial of David L. Marshall, chiropractor, charged with the murder of Anna May Dietrich, his sweetheart.

One hundred and twenty-six talesmen already have been examined. The rate the jury box is being filled, both prosecution and defense are pessimistic over the probability of starting testimony before Friday.

The chiropractor, who had been tentatively selected as forerunner of the jury, was removed Wednesday because of his acquaintance with Abraham Verner, counsel for Marshall.

The juror, who is accused of murdering Miss Dietrich and dismembering her body, maintains his air of calmness in court. His 12-year-old daughter is seriously ill and his wife has said that she will have nothing to do with him.

NEW HATCHERY IN SOUTH GEORGIA IS NOW APPROVED

Washington, March 10.—(AP)—Opposition to the establishment of a fish hatchery in South Georgia has been removed through the efforts of Senator William J. Harris, democrat, Georgia.

Previous attempts to establish a hatchery have been blocked by objection of Director of the Budget Lord over the proposed $300,000 appropriation. Since then the budget director has been over to a proposition of the Georgia senator and President Coolidge has approved it.

Senator Harris was advised today by the appropriations committee that the appropriation would be allowed.

The proposed new hatchery will not affect the existing Warm Springs hatchery in middle Georgia.

The site for the new hatchery will be selected by the bureau of fisheries.

ELSIE DE WOLFE AND ENGLISHMAN WEDDED IN PARIS

Paris, March 10.—(AP)—Mrs. Elsie De Wolfe, of New York and Charlotte, Mead, head of the press section of the British embassy, were married today at the British consulate.

Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt and Ambassador Hendrick were officials for the bride, and embassy associates acted for the groom.

The couple left immediately after the ceremony for a honeymoon trip to Egypt.

Miss Elsie De Wolfe, born in New York, is widely known in social circles in America. She is 61 years old. Formerly an accomplished actress, of late she has been known as an active and successful interior decorator. After several seasons with the old Empire State company, she organized a company of her own and as a manager, produced a number of Clyde Fitch's plays. She left the stage in 1903. She maintains a residence in New York but has spent most of her time recently in France.

Sir Charles Mead served in the British army as an intelligence officer during the world war. He was knighted in 1924.

TOBACCO GROWERS FACING RECEIVERSHIP

Raleigh, N. C., March 10.—(AP)—The Tri-State Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Marketing association again faces receivership proceedings. An order filed here today requires the association to appear in federal court at Fayetteville, N. C., on March 22 to show cause why a receiver should not be appointed.

The complaint charges fraud and misrepresentation in the signing up of members for organization of the association, some years ago, and extravagance and wastefulness.

TWO HOMES MADE HAPPY By Women Who Used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I think it is the most wonderful medicine I ever tried," is the statement made by Mrs. Goldie Shoup, of May View, Illinois. She declares that after taking the Compound she is in better health than before.

Mrs. J. Storms writes: "I can not speak too highly of your medicine and I recommend it to all my friends."

These statements were taken from two enthusiastic letters which tell of the help that has been received from using the Vegetable Compound. Both Mrs. Shoup and Mrs. Storms were in a run-down condition which caused them much unhappiness. When women are suffering from lack of strength and from weakness, their own life and that of their family is affected. When they feel well and strong and are able to do their household easily, happy homes are the result.

Are you on the Sunlit Road to Better Health?

SENATE CHANGES BANKING MEASURE

Washington, March 10.—(AP)—Section nine of the McFadden banking bill, passed by the house, around which has centered a stormy controversy from banking interests, has been rewritten by the senate banking and currency committee.

This section, which in its original form would prohibit banks with membership in the federal reserve system from establishing branches, has been changed to permit state banks under certain restrictions to create branches within the state.

The senate committee has made numerous other changes in the house measure and another session of the committee has been called for Friday, when the bill will be further revised. It is not known when the measure will be reported.

FARM SITUATION GROWING BETTER

Fort Worth, Texas, March 10.—(AP)—Agriculture as a whole is slowly but surely climbing back to its rightful place among the great productive industries of the nation. Secretary Jardine told the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' association in an address here today.

Although estimating that the total number of cattle in the United States has decreased about 9,000,000 since 1920, he said he believed the cattle industry has passed the critical stage and that its future is bright.

"We begin to see daylight ahead," he declared, "not merely in cattle but in the whole agricultural situation. The heavy net movement of population away from the farms has apparently subsided."

Farm products have improved in purchasing power, although they are not yet back to a parity of exchange for industrial goods or services. Land values show signs of improvement, at least in some sections, and farm property is beginning to find buyers in the open market. There are many signs that agricultural readjustment is proceeding to the point of real stabilization and that better times are definitely in sight.

CENTRAL RECORD BROKEN IN 1925

Savannah, Ga., March 10.—(AP)—All officers and directors of the Central of Georgia railway and the Ocean Steamship company were re-elected at the annual meeting held here today. L. A. Howes was re-elected president of both companies, and outside of the elections and reports heard, no other business was transacted. Most of the out-of-town officials left early this afternoon.

The report of the Central of Georgia shows that the railroad had the heaviest business in its history in 1925.

Mrs. Henry P. Williams, Widely Known Here, Dies in South Carolina

Mrs. Henry Porter Williams, well-known South Carolina woman, died Wednesday at the residence on the Battery in Charleston, according to information received by Atlanta relatives Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Williams was formerly Mary Kendall Goode, of Atlanta, and was the daughter of Samuel W. Goode, well-known Atlanta. She was educated at Washington seminary, and later went abroad to Pensionnat Armez Droz, in Neuchâtel, Switzerland, and after her course abroad she was a prominent member of the younger social set before her marriage and removal to South Carolina.

In addition to her husband, H. R. Williams, she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Foster Hampton, of New York, and Mrs. Eugene Greer, of Charleston, S. C.; two sons, Porter Williams, of Charleston, and Samuel Goode Williams, of Connecticut; her stepmother, Mrs. Samuel W. Goode, of Atlanta; two sisters, Mrs. Martha Goode Anderson, of New York, and Mrs. Isaac Hardeman, of Charleston; two sisters-in-law, Mrs. Patrick Callahan, of Lexington, Ky., and Mrs. Waring Carrington, of Charleston, S. C.; and four cousins, Mrs. William H. Morrow, of Atlanta; Mrs. Bates Block, of Atlanta; Henry Porter, of Atlanta, and Lowery Porter, of Atlanta.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

JAMES MULCAHY DIES IN CENTRAL AMERICA

News was received in Atlanta Wednesday of the death of James Mulcahy, 60, Monday in Bragmans Bluff, Nicaragua, Central America. He was survived by three daughters, Misses Anna I. Mulcahy, Winifred Mulcahy and Alice Mulcahy, of 169 Cherokee avenue, Atlanta; three sisters, Misses Annie and Mary Mulcahy, and Mrs. Joseph Salvo, of North Hadley, Mass.; one brother, Patrick H. Mulcahy, Compton, Calif.; one sister-in-law, Mrs. Winifred Vincent, of Atlanta, Ga. Funeral arrangements will be announced later on arrival of remains in Atlanta. Frank R. Donnelly, funeral director in charge.

New Way To Reduce

The new discovery of Veronica Water for reducing proves beyond doubt that fat can be eliminated without starvation diet, tiring exercises, drugs, girdles, creams, or weakening baths.

Veronica, a very remarkable mineral water, helps the normal functioning of the organs so that food is assimilated naturally and correctly. When this occurs the fat-forming elements are eliminated freely and are not absorbed into the system.

Veronica is guaranteed to be a pure mineral water with nothing added to it or taken away. Simply drink a few glasses daily and reduce. Recommended by physicians. Veronica is sold by all druggists. Send for free book describing scientific effect of Veronica for reducing. Address Dept. 24-30 Veronica Springs Co., Santa Barbara, California.

SENATE CONFIRMS HUNT APPOINTMENT

Washington, March 10.—(AP)—Opponents of the confirmation of Charles W. Hunt, of Iowa, for another term as a member of the federal trade commission, lost their fight today in the senate, 48 to 20.

Six republican insurgents joined with 13 democrats and the one farmer-labor senator in voting against confirmation, while 12 democrats added their votes to those of 36 republicans for favorable action.

Senator Brookhart, of Iowa, one of the republican insurgent group, supported Hunt. Senators Norris, republican, Nebraska; Walsh, democrat, Montana; and King, democrat, Utah, opposed the nomination in the debate that preceded action in the executive session.

They based their arguments chiefly on the ground that Mr. Hunt was one of the commissioners appointed under the Harding-Coolidge administration who had undertaken to administer the usefulness of the commission by adopting practices in conflict with the purposes congress had in mind in creating that body.

The Adopted Wife

INSTALLMENT XVI.

CELIA MAKES AN IMPRESSION.

Celia, who had thought it out, replied promptly to Mr. Sieburg's question, though not with a "yes" or "no."
"If you can spare me five minutes, I'll tell you exactly what I want."
"Shove it across," said Mr. Abe.
"I was at the Sieburg theater Monday morning."
"Bad night for shows," he interpolated. "Go on."
"I saw your aquatic artist," I didn't think much of her."
"Huh?"
"I didn't think much of her," repeated Celia, clearly. "Indeed, I thought her rather poor."
Unexpectedly, Mr. Abe returned quickly.
"Same here. And she's kicking for more salary, too."
"How much does she get?" asked Celia, as quickly.
"Excuse me—business secrets."
Celia was untroubled.

"I only wanted to know," she explained, "because I can outswim her in every way. I can stay at least twelve seconds longer under water. I could get across your pool at the Sieburg while she was getting under way. As for her diving..."
She lifted her shoulders quite high, let them drop again, and sat smiling with closed lips, her eyes just touching his, then sliding away to a crayon portrait of his brother, whom, from his appearance, she was very glad she had not tried to see.

Mr. Abe's eyes also slipped away, came back to her, and slid off again.
"I've heard you could swim," said Mr. Abe, "but I guess you don't mean you'd swim for pay?"
"Certainly," returned Celia. "I mean that I'll swim for you at the Sieburg... if you'll pay me well enough."

"If you'd use your own name it would be more."
"Mrs. Hilary Fraser?"
"Yes."
"No. I won't use my husband's name."
"Then it would be half of what I'd give if you did use it. It's a stamp-free advertising. See? I guess I couldn't give you even half, if you wouldn't use it."

"You haven't seen me swim yet," said Celia.
"Nope. And I'd sure have to, before I even considered an offer."
"Naturally."
"How high can you dive from?"
"If you could arrange a scaffolding and springboard, I could dive from the top of the Sieburg theater—inside, of course."
"Five stories? My Gawd!" said Mr. Abe, and in spite of him his eyes gleamed. Then, dawning, he asked:
"When'll you do some stunts for me?"
"When you like."
"This aft?"
"I beg your pardon?"
"Say at five today—the Sieburg."
"Certainly. I'll bring my things, and put them on at the theater."
"Fine."

"You'll find everything else O. K.," he added, proudly.

He hesitated a second. It had just come to him that this classy dame, so thin even in her thick dress, would probably look something fierce when stripped to the buff.

"Dress light for swimming, I guess?"
"I wear the usual thing," said Celia, gravely.
Mr. Abe wondered what the usual thing was among classy people, and fumbled hurriedly in his brain trying to think of some "get up" his customer might invent, to blur the outline of this lady's long and, he felt certain, sharp bones.

He was waiting for her in the lobby when she taxied up to the Sieburg theater at five that afternoon, accompanied by Donovan, who carried a small parcel. He pushed open one of the glass doors and beckoned her in with a thick, hooked finger.

"Take you through the house for first time. Alley'll do later if we bring off the deal," he explained, as he ushered her into the theater, preceding her as a matter of course, and leaving her to catch the swinging door for herself.

Donovan wondered what in the name of Mike her lady was up to, for Celia had explained nothing to her beyond the fact that she was to swim in the Sieburg theater that afternoon.

As they proceeded along a wide aisle toward the stage door, Mr. Abe startled them by shouting harshly:

"Kill that pink baby! This ain't no bedroom farce. Turn on the juice in the gallery spot, and get some green foots ready."

Celia only learned some time later that "baby spotlights" were shortened to "babies" in the jargon of the theater, and that to order a "pink baby" murdered for the benefit of a greenhorn was an old theatrical joke.

Mr. Abe now preceded her on to the stage, as he had done into the theater, leaving the heavy stage door open behind him, however.

Some men were standing about, staring curiously, and one, dressed in a tight-waisted striped suit, with a derby hat that just balanced on the side of his knotty black hair, stepped forward. He had a spouting black mustache which hid his mouth, a small broken nose, and very large, white-blue eyes set close against it.

"This is our Alf Goldstein, aquatic expert," said Mr. Abe. "I want he should pass on your swimming. This is the lady I told you about, Alf. Don't want her name known."

"How do you do?" said Celia.

"Pleased to meet you," returned Mr. Goldstein, with a bow from his tight, empire waist.

"Get out in the orchestra, Alf—while the lady's fixing up," said the autocrat. "I want you should judge of the lighting before she comes back."

He then led Celia to the door of the "star" dressing room, which he opened with a pass key. As he did so he jerked:

"This is Ziska's dressing room. . . . It smells pretty strong of hooch today, because she got lit last night and smashed two bots. . . . Says she can't swim her best lesson she's lit. . . . Funny Pollack. . . . Says she likes whisky straight, but not water."

He appeared about to smile, then thought better of it. His lips, which had flickered for a second, closed tight. He never allowed himself to smile when a business deal was looming or in process.

"There you are," he said at last, for he had had some trouble with the lock, and threw open the door on the room sacred to Ziska, the Human Fish.

"I guess you can make out," he continued, sniffing. "She seems to have drowned it pretty thorough with perfume."

He was alluding, of course, to the smell of whisky, which, indeed, struggled dreadfully with the saw-edged odor of Chypre.

"You'll find everything else O. K.," he added, proudly. "This is the classiest dressing room in any New York theater. Bye, bye," and he disappeared, banging to the door after him.

"Say," said Mr. Goldstein, who was by way of being a wit, as the great man joined him in the fifth orchestra row, "what're you giving us this time? A classy skeleton you've dug out of some closet on Fit' av'noon?"

"Says she can dive from the top of this theater," returned Mr. Abe, briefly.

"Sposin' she can? Nobody'll be able to see her in profile."

"Aw, shut up. I haven't come here in business hours to hear your fool jokes," growled the other. He was himself growing more and more apprehensive that he had wasted time and consequently money on a trout that would prove a flivver.

WHEAT PRICES

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Chicago, Ill., March 10.—Heavy general selling of wheat at the opening, induced by the bearish construction placed on the government report of the previous day, caused a break of 1-2-3-4 in prices to a new low on the present down-turn on May and July and to a new low for the season on the September, May topping $1.55 and July $1.53, but liquidation failed to develop and with aggressive buying by eastern and local bulls the surplus in the pit was absorbed.

Chicago opened 3-4-1c lower but the buying was of a better character than the selling, and the finish was at net gains of 1-2-3-4c.

While the government estimate on stocks of wheat was construed by a majority of operators as bearish, there were others who regarded it as seasonally bullish, and there was considerable change in sentiment during the day. Durum wheat prices are on a world's basis and the statistics indicate that after allowing for the effect of grain that does not supply at the end of the season will be unusually small. Aggressive buying started immediately after the opening and continued until the close.

Chicago interests were credited with having sold wheat futures in Liverpool, but that market closed only 1-8-9-10 lower, despite claims of very developed considerable strength.

Chicago closed 1-2-3-4 higher with March $1.53 and May $1.51 1-2-3-4 for the day. Winnipeg was 1-2-3-4 for the day.

Bay St. Louis, Miss., March 10.—(AP)—Decision that Jesse Favre should spend the rest of his life in the penitentiary and that no newspaper representative should be held in contempt of court for having caused to be published testimony brought in by the testimony were made late today.

Favre was found guilty of the murder of J. A. McNamee, but the jury was unable to agree on the punishment. Under the Mississippi law this automatically resulted in a sentence of life imprisonment. After the case was disposed of, Judge Walter A. White, who issued an order before the trial began, that newspapers circulating in Hancoville should refrain from publishing testimony, announced that the question of liberty of the press could not properly be determined by a test of newspaper rather than of order since anticipated charges had not developed.

"When the order was made against the publication in Hancoville of the testimony in the Jesse Favre case," said Judge White, "it was confidently expected that at least one other indictment would be returned under investigation would follow at the present time of court and I anticipated great difficulty in securing a fair and impartial jury in any event."

"It happened, however, that no other indictment was returned, and it has now developed that the necessity for the order was apparent rather than real and hence no actual wrong to the public has resulted from the disregard by the press of that order."

Mason, Mich., March 10.—(AP)—C. Rich, wealthy Battle Creek lawyer, was found guilty and sentenced to life imprisonment late Wednesday on a charge of criminal assault.

A jury of farmers returned the verdict in 25 minutes.

Young Rich was accused of attacking a Battle Creek college co-ed, in a golf-course petting party last May. His counsel argued that the co-ed, conduct and mode of dress invited advances.

Probably more than any other case of its kind in recent years the trial raised the question of whether a modern girl must give up her rights to chivalrous treatment in exchange for her new freedom of dress and conduct.

Attorneys for the defense emphasized the victim's wine drinking, her smoking and her participation in petting parties. Prospective jurors were questioned about their attitude toward the present generation.

The evidence showed that the girl, Rich and another couple went automobile riding on the night of the assault. The first two left the car at the Country Club, Rich carrying a jug of wine. When the girl returned for her dormitory on the campus, Battle Creek college her face was badly bruised and her jaw had been fractured.

Washington, March 10.—(AP)—The senate agricultural committee today favorably reported six farm and forestry measures but did not act on the department of agriculture cooperative marketing bill, which appropriates $550,000 for the testing of potato deposits.

Two Norris bills for the protection of forest lands.

The Norris bill appropriating $200,000 to protect the forest cover and to prevent fires in national forests in California.

The Norris bill authorizing federal inspection of plant products offered for export including fruits, vegetables, and seed and nursery stock.

Providence, R. I., March 10.—(AP)—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., in an address tonight before Phi Beta Kappa members, announced the launching of a nationwide movement by the Phi Beta Kappa National Honor Society to raise a sequentennial fund of $1,000,000 to aid in "restoring scholarship and teaching to their rightful place."

The fund, he said, will be put to two uses. One will be the erection of a memorial building at William and Mary college in honor of the 50 founders of Phi Beta Kappa. The other will be for the establishing of annual rewards for merit in scholarship.

One of the latter will be a grand prize for distinction in teaching or attainment in scholarship, which will be open to all teachers and to college graduates of not more than 10 years' standing. Smaller prizes not exceeding $2,000 each, will be given to "chapters, or individuals, in aid of scholarship, teaching, or research, or constructive experiment." There also will be awards for scholarship in secondary preparatory schools.

Atlanta, Ga., March 10.—(AP)—The Georgia legislature today passed a bill to amend the constitution to provide for a five-person jury in criminal cases.

The bill was passed by a vote of 100 to 0 in the senate and 100 to 0 in the house.

The bill was introduced by Representative Garrett, of Tennessee, democratic leader, and Chairman of the committee on judiciary.

Professor Paul Kanamori, noted evangelist, and known as the "Billy Sunday of Japan," is slated to arrive in Atlanta this morning to preach at 8:30 o'clock tonight at the Bible conference in progress at the Baptist tabernacle.

Professor Kanamori was converted in 1875, while a student in a military school in Japan, conducted by Captain L. L. James, a graduate of West Point, who was invited by the Japanese government to teach military tactics. Forty youths of the school, among whom was Professor Kanamori, after being converted, banded themselves together with firm determination to hold on to their new faith. This group in later years was called the "Kumamoto Band," well known in the early history of Christian missions in Japan.

He comes to Atlanta after several months' visit to England, the continent and Canada, and lately from engagements in New York and Philadelphia.

Dr. P. W. Philpott, pastor of the Moody church, Chicago, will be the first speaker at the 7:30 o'clock service.

Other addresses today will be by Miss Sara Funderburk, missionary to China, at 10 o'clock; Dr. A. T. Robertson, of the Louisville (Ky.) Theological seminary, at 11 o'clock; Miss Elizabeth Gunn, at 2:30 o'clock; and Dr. A. T. Robertson, at 3:30 o'clock.

Dr. Torrey conducted the second of a series of "Question Hour" lectures Wednesday at 10 o'clock. Dr. Robertson spoke on "The Church of the New Testament" at 11 o'clock.

Dr. Will H. Houghton, pastor of the Tabernacle, filled the pulpit at the 2:30 o'clock service, and Dr. Torrey and Dr. Robertson spoke at the night service Wednesday. Dr. Torrey delivered the third and last sermon on "Ten Reasons Why I Believe the Bible is the Word of God," and Dr. Robertson spoke on "The Church of the New Testament."

Announcement was made by Dr. Houghton that a popular Atlanta quartet, composed of Clifford Durham, Tom Houghton, George Gray, and John Mullins, will render selections at night services the remainder of the week.
